Concept 27 ► Few & Little with/without "a"

Sometimes a single word can completely change the meaning of a sentence. Consider the inclusion or exclusion of "a" in the sentences in the green section.

 It's enough!	 It's not enough!
I have a few opportunities to speak English, so I am learning English faster than I expected.	I have few opportunities to speak English, so I am not learning English as fast as I expected.
I have a little cash, so I can buy lunch today. 	I have little cash, so I cannot buy lunch today.

a few	few	◀ Countable
a little	little	◀ Uncountable

The word "few" is used with countable nouns while "little" is used with uncountable nouns.

When we think the amount is enough, we include the word "a" before "few" and "little", but not when we think the amount is insufficient to do what we want.

Suggested Lesson Flow

Warm-up	Display the concept image and ask learners to predict the rule behind Few and Little with/without "a" before reading the explanation.
Model	Walk through the Core Idea and the sections on Key Points, Usage of "Few" and "A Few", Usage of "Little" and "A Little". Pause after each part so students can restate the pattern in plain English.
Guided practice	Project two or three examples from the concept sheet and ask pairs to explain why each choice works, not just what the answer is.
Independent work	Assign the 24 practice items for quiet work, partner checking, and final feedback.
Closure	Ask students to create one new sentence or mini-example of their own that follows the same pattern.

Likely Learner Errors

- Learners may overgeneralize the first pattern they notice. Keep returning to Key Points, Usage of "Few" and "A Few", Usage of "Little" and "A Little" and ask students to explain what changes from one example to the next.
- Long explanations can hide the signal word or structure. Have students underline the exact phrase that tells them which form, pattern, or response is needed.
- If students can choose an answer but cannot explain it, ask them to justify their choice using words taken directly from the concept sheet.

Differentiation and Delivery Notes

- Support: teach one section at a time, then send students back to the examples or the practice set so they can apply the same rule immediately.
- Pair work: let students compare answers aloud before you reveal the key. The explanation step is as important as the final answer.
- Extension: ask stronger students to write two fresh examples or a short dialogue that uses the same target language accurately.

Model Language from the Concept Sheet

- Few is used with countable nouns.
- Little is used with uncountable nouns.
- Apples, books, opportunities, cars.
- Water, money, advice, information.
- Indicates a small number of countable items that is enough for a particular purpose.
- Example Sentences: I have a few friends in the city, so I am not lonely....
