

ENGLISH FOR WORK / SEPTEMBER 2026

Real Estate English

Conversation lab

12 complete workplace dialogues, followed by eight additional role-play cases. Study the exchanges, then make the conversation your own.

PRACTICE THAT TRANSFERS TO WORK

Read a realistic case. Find the right language. Speak, write, get feedback, and try again.

Eight lessons | Intermediate to advanced | Independent or classroom study

For real estate agents, brokers, transaction coordinators, property managers, leasing teams, and commercial real estate staff.

Fictional language practice. Legal, financial, and regulatory meanings depend on jurisdiction and context; use current documents and qualified review for actual decisions.

All scenarios, figures, and model responses are fictional teaching material. Use invented details in practice.

Open this course on English Ladder

Inside this conversation lab

Original fictional training conversations in professional English. These are realistic scripts, not transcripts of actual people. The professional roles are the speaker labels; all figures, incidents, and organizations are invented.

- 01 Buyer Consultation: Agreement Before Touring
- 02 Fair Housing Question: 'Is This a Good Neighborhood?'
- 03 Listing Presentation: Seller Wants an Unrealistic Price
- 04 Multiple Offers: Stronger Terms vs Higher Price
- 05 Inspection Negotiation: Repair Credit
- 06 Low Appraisal: Contract Price Is Higher Than Appraised Value
- 07 Financing Delay: Underwriting Conditions
- 08 RESPA Risk: Referral Benefit
- 09 Seller Disclosure: Known Water Intrusion
- 10 Lead-Based Paint Disclosure
- 11 Dual Agency or Same-Brokerage Conflict
- 12 Commercial Lease: NNN and TI Allowance

Then try eight independent role-play cases, followed by feedback criteria and references.

Read it. Hear it. Make it yours.

1. Read the setting. Identify the roles, the immediate problem, and what each speaker needs.
2. Read the whole conversation aloud with a partner. In a group, give a third person the observer role. For three-speaker scripts, assign each professional a separate voice.
3. Notice how the speakers ask a specific question, qualify a claim, disagree, explain a technical point, or agree on a next step. Underline language you would actually use.
4. Cover the script. Recreate the exchange using the situation and professional roles. Keep the meaning, but change the wording.
5. Switch roles and introduce a complication: a missing record, a different priority, an unavailable colleague, or a changed assumption. End with a clear outcome or unresolved question.

Register and terminology

These colleagues use concise professional language. In an internal technical meeting, familiar abbreviations can be natural. With a new colleague or a client, expand unfamiliar terms and check understanding. Keep disagreement directed at the evidence or proposal, and match the degree of certainty to what is known.

Independent study

Speak each role aloud. Pause before the reply and supply your own response before revealing the next line. Record a second version using invented details, then compare its clarity and tone with the script.

Professional context

Fictional language practice. Legal, financial, and regulatory meanings depend on jurisdiction and context; use current documents and qualified review for actual decisions.

FULL DIALOGUE 01 / 7 SPEAKING TURNS

Buyer Consultation: Agreement Before Touring

A buyer wants to see a house immediately but has not discussed representation or compensation.

Roles: Buyer / Agent / Transaction adviser

Buyer: Can you show me the house this afternoon? I do not want to sign anything yet.

Agent: Before arranging representation and a tour, let's review the applicable law, brokerage policy, and any agreement requirements. I will explain the services, term, and compensation arrangements clearly.

Transaction adviser: This agreement is not meant to pressure you. It defines who I represent, what I can do for you, and what compensation we agree to. We can keep the term narrow if you only want to evaluate this property.

Buyer: So I have to pay you?

Transaction adviser: Compensation is negotiable and may be paid in different ways depending on the offer and transaction. The important point is that we discuss it clearly before we start representation.

Buyer: I will review the proposed services and ask about anything unclear.

Transaction adviser: We can document the arrangement only after the relevant terms and requirements are understood.

Notice the professional language

Explain agreement and compensation calmly before advice becomes transaction-specific.

Use transparent language without implying compensation is fixed or required by law.

Rehearse and extend with AI

Explain the issue and the agreed next step without reading. Identify any point still awaiting evidence, agreement, or approval. Then replay the exchange with a changed constraint and a new ending.

Observer: note one natural professional expression and one place where the follow-up made the meaning clearer.

FULL DIALOGUE 02 / 7 SPEAKING TURNS

Fair Housing Question: 'Is This a Good Neighborhood?'

A buyer asks for subjective neighborhood advice that could lead to steering.

Roles: Buyer / Agent / Transaction adviser

Buyer: Is this a good neighborhood for families like us?

Agent: I can help you compare objective information, but I cannot steer you based on who lives here.

Transaction adviser: Let's define what 'good' means for you: commute time, budget, property condition, parks, school district boundaries, noise, transit, or walkability. I can point you to public resources so you can evaluate the area using your own priorities.

Buyer: But would you live here?

Transaction adviser: I should not substitute my personal preference for your decision. I can give you property facts and objective sources, and you can decide whether the area fits your needs.

Buyer: I will compare the objective information against the buyer's stated priorities.

Transaction adviser: Keep the discussion focused on property facts and the buyer's own criteria.

Notice the professional language

Do not shame the client; redirect to objective criteria.

Avoid statements that imply preference based on protected-class characteristics.

Rehearse and extend with AI

Explain the issue and the agreed next step without reading. Identify any point still awaiting evidence, agreement, or approval. Then replay the exchange with a changed constraint and a new ending.

Observer: note one natural professional expression and one place where the follow-up made the meaning clearer.

FULL DIALOGUE 03 / 7 SPEAKING TURNS

Listing Presentation: Seller Wants an Unrealistic Price

A seller wants to list far above the CMA range because a neighbor got a high price last year.

Roles: Seller / Listing agent / Transaction adviser

Seller: My neighbor sold for more last year. I want to list at that number plus 10 percent.

Listing agent: The market has changed since then.

Transaction adviser: We can test a premium only if the evidence supports it. The closest recent comps show lower closed prices, longer DOM, and seller concessions. If we list too high, we may reduce urgency and help competing listings look more attractive.

Seller: I do not want to leave money on the table.

Transaction adviser: Neither do I. My recommendation is a price that creates serious buyer activity and gives us leverage. We can also agree now on a review point if showings or feedback are weak.

Seller: I will prepare the comparable-sales evidence and a proposed review point.

Transaction adviser: Make the assumptions and market dates clear in the pricing discussion.

Notice the professional language

DOM - Days on market; how long a property has been publicly listed under local rules.

Rehearse and extend with AI

Explain the issue and the agreed next step without reading. Identify any point still awaiting evidence, agreement, or approval. Then replay the exchange with a changed constraint and a new ending.

Observer: note one natural professional expression and one place where the follow-up made the meaning clearer.

FULL DIALOGUE 04 / 7 SPEAKING TURNS

Multiple Offers: Stronger Terms vs Higher Price

A buyer wants to win in a competitive situation but does not understand the risk of waiving protections.

Roles: Buyer / Agent / Transaction adviser

Buyer: Let's waive everything and offer over asking.

Agent: That may strengthen the offer, but it changes your risk.

Transaction adviser: We should compare price, appraisal gap, inspection rights, financing contingency, earnest money, closing date, and seller priorities. A stronger offer is not just a higher price. It is also certainty and clean terms.

Buyer: Can we waive inspection?

Transaction adviser: Waiving or changing inspection protections can have significant consequences. Let's review the actual contract, applicable local requirements, and qualified advice before you choose or authorize any strategy.

Buyer: I will ask for a comparison of the actual contractual options.

Transaction adviser: We will coordinate qualified review before you authorize any change to protections.

Notice the professional language

Earnest money - Deposit showing buyer seriousness, handled according to contract and escrow rules.

Appraisal gap - Difference between contract price and appraised value that can create financing or negotiation issues.

Rehearse and extend with AI

Explain the issue and the agreed next step without reading. Identify any point still awaiting evidence, agreement, or approval. Then replay the exchange with a changed constraint and a new ending.

Observer: note one natural professional expression and one place where the follow-up made the meaning clearer.

FULL DIALOGUE 05 / 7 SPEAKING TURNS

Inspection Negotiation: Repair Credit

An inspection found roof and electrical issues. The buyer is angry and wants the seller to fix everything.

Roles: Buyer / Agent / Transaction adviser

Buyer: This house has problems. Ask them to fix every item.

Agent: We need to separate major issues from normal maintenance.

Transaction adviser: The strongest request will focus on safety, systems, and cost. Instead of sending a long emotional list, we can ask for a licensed electrician to address the panel issue and request a credit toward the roof repair, supported by the inspection report and estimate.

Buyer: What if they refuse?

Transaction adviser: Then we evaluate your contract options, your appetite for repairs, and whether a revised price or credit makes the risk acceptable.

Buyer: I will gather the inspection references and estimates.

Transaction adviser: Then we can frame a specific request and review the available contractual options.

Notice the professional language

Convert anger into specific, document-supported requests.

Separate inspection facts from negotiation strategy.

Rehearse and extend with AI

Explain the issue and the agreed next step without reading. Identify any point still awaiting evidence, agreement, or approval. Then replay the exchange with a changed constraint and a new ending.

Observer: note one natural professional expression and one place where the follow-up made the meaning clearer.

FULL DIALOGUE 06 / 7 SPEAKING TURNS

Low Appraisal: Contract Price Is Higher Than Appraised Value

The appraisal comes in below contract price and financing is affected.

Roles: Lender / Buyer / Transaction adviser

Lender: The appraisal is twenty thousand below contract price.

Buyer: Does that mean the deal is dead?

Transaction adviser: Not automatically. We have several paths: challenge the appraisal if there are factual issues, renegotiate price, increase down payment, use an appraisal-gap clause if one exists, or cancel if the contract allows it.

Buyer: What should we do?

Transaction adviser: First, let's review the appraisal with the lender and compare it to our comps. Then we can choose a negotiation position based on your cash, contract rights, and risk tolerance.

Lender: I will ask the lender to explain the appraisal implications.

Transaction adviser: We will assess the options against the actual contract and your verified resources.

Notice the professional language

Low appraisal language should be calm and options-based.

Do not promise the appraisal can be changed.

Rehearse and extend with AI

Explain the issue and the agreed next step without reading. Identify any point still awaiting evidence, agreement, or approval. Then replay the exchange with a changed constraint and a new ending.

Observer: note one natural professional expression and one place where the follow-up made the meaning clearer.

FULL DIALOGUE 07 / 7 SPEAKING TURNS

Financing Delay: Underwriting Conditions

Closing is approaching but the lender still needs documentation.

Roles: Seller agent / Buyer agent / Transaction adviser

Seller agent: Are your buyers clear to close? We need certainty.

Buyer agent: The file is still in underwriting.

Transaction adviser: The lender has issued conditional approval and is waiting on two documents from the buyer. We expect an update tomorrow afternoon. I do not want to overpromise, so I will send a written status update by 4 p.m. with any impact on closing.

Seller agent: Should we issue a notice?

Transaction adviser: I understand your concern. Please send any contract notice through the proper channel. Meanwhile, I will keep the timeline, owner, and dependency clear for everyone.

Seller agent: I will track the outstanding documents with the lender.

Transaction adviser: Keep every party informed of confirmed changes through the proper transaction channels.

Notice the professional language

Clear to close - Lender status indicating conditions are substantially satisfied for closing.

Rehearse and extend with AI

Explain the issue and the agreed next step without reading. Identify any point still awaiting evidence, agreement, or approval. Then replay the exchange with a changed constraint and a new ending.

Observer: note one natural professional expression and one place where the follow-up made the meaning clearer.

FULL DIALOGUE 08 / 7 SPEAKING TURNS

RESPA Risk: Referral Benefit

A settlement-service provider offers valuable benefits for referrals.

Roles: Vendor / Agent / Transaction adviser

Vendor: If you send us your buyers, we can sponsor your client event and give you premium tickets.

Agent: That sounds generous, but we need to be careful.

Transaction adviser: I cannot agree to benefits tied to settlement-service referrals. Any proposed arrangement needs broker and compliance review under the applicable rules and our policy before we discuss acceptance.

Vendor: Everyone does it.

Transaction adviser: Our policy is to protect clients and avoid referral-kickback risk. I can share your public information with clients if they ask for options, but I cannot trade referrals for benefits.

Vendor: I will send any proposed arrangement to the broker for review.

Transaction adviser: Keep acceptance pending and do not link any benefit to referrals.

Notice the professional language

Referral pressure requires direct, documented refusal.

Use broker and compliance review rather than improvising.

Rehearse and extend with AI

Explain the issue and the agreed next step without reading. Identify any point still awaiting evidence, agreement, or approval. Then replay the exchange with a changed constraint and a new ending.

Observer: note one natural professional expression and one place where the follow-up made the meaning clearer.

FULL DIALOGUE 09 / 7 SPEAKING TURNS

Seller Disclosure: Known Water Intrusion

A seller wants to avoid disclosing a past water problem because it was repaired.

Roles: Seller / Agent / Transaction adviser

Seller: Do we really need to mention the basement leak? It was fixed two years ago.

Agent: Known property issues can create disclosure duties.

Transaction adviser: I cannot tell you how to complete the legal disclosure form, but I can tell you not to hide known facts. Let's review the form instructions, gather repair records, and if you are unsure, ask your attorney before we publish or respond to buyers.

Seller: I am afraid buyers will panic.

Transaction adviser: Clear disclosure with documentation can reduce surprises later. A hidden issue can create a much larger trust and contract problem.

Seller: I will assemble the repair records and form instructions.

Transaction adviser: Qualified advice can resolve the disclosure questions before the response is finalized.

Notice the professional language

Do not complete legal disclosure decisions for the client.

Encourage truth, documentation, and expert review.

Rehearse and extend with AI

Explain the issue and the agreed next step without reading. Identify any point still awaiting evidence, agreement, or approval. Then replay the exchange with a changed constraint and a new ending.

Observer: note one natural professional expression and one place where the follow-up made the meaning clearer.

FULL DIALOGUE 10 / 7 SPEAKING TURNS

Lead-Based Paint Disclosure

A pre-1978 home is going under contract and documents are incomplete.

Roles: Transaction coordinator / Agent / Transaction adviser

Transaction coordinator: The lead disclosure form is missing the buyer acknowledgment.

Agent: Can we just send it after signatures?

Transaction adviser: We need to check the applicable lead-disclosure requirements, including whether this property and transaction are covered and when the required steps must occur. Route the incomplete file to the responsible broker or compliance reviewer before proceeding.

Agent: The seller does not know of any lead paint.

Transaction adviser: A lack of known lead information does not by itself resolve the disclosure question. Let's verify the applicable forms, information, timing, acknowledgments, and any inspection-related requirements with the authorized reviewer.

Transaction coordinator: I will flag the incomplete item in the transaction checklist.

Transaction adviser: The responsible reviewer should confirm the applicable steps before the file proceeds.

Notice the professional language

Lead disclosure is a document and timing conversation, not only a knowledge conversation.

Use process language and file discipline.

Rehearse and extend with AI

Explain the issue and the agreed next step without reading. Identify any point still awaiting evidence, agreement, or approval. Then replay the exchange with a changed constraint and a new ending.

Observer: note one natural professional expression and one place where the follow-up made the meaning clearer.

FULL DIALOGUE 11 / 7 SPEAKING TURNS

Dual Agency or Same-Brokerage Conflict

A buyer wants to make an offer on a listing held by the same brokerage.

Roles: Buyer / Agent / Transaction adviser

Buyer: Can you still represent me if your office has the listing?

Agent: It depends on state law, brokerage policy, and the agency structure.

Transaction adviser: We need to disclose the relationship clearly and explain whether this is dual agency, designated agency, or another permitted arrangement. You should understand what advice I can and cannot give before you decide whether to consent.

Buyer: Will you tell me what the seller will accept?

Transaction adviser: I cannot share confidential information from another client or side. My role and limits must be clear before we proceed.

Buyer: I will request a clear explanation of the permitted representation structure.

Transaction adviser: Document the required disclosures and decisions through the applicable process.

Notice the professional language

Designated agency - Same brokerage but different designated agents represent different clients, where permitted.

Dual agency - Representation of both buyer and seller in the same transaction where allowed and properly disclosed.

Rehearse and extend with AI

Explain the issue and the agreed next step without reading. Identify any point still awaiting evidence, agreement, or approval. Then replay the exchange with a changed constraint and a new ending.

Observer: note one natural professional expression and one place where the follow-up made the meaning clearer.

FULL DIALOGUE 12 / 7 SPEAKING TURNS

Commercial Lease: NNN and TI Allowance

A small business owner is reviewing a commercial lease proposal.

Roles: Tenant / Commercial agent / Transaction adviser

Tenant: The rent looks affordable. It says NNN, CAM, and TI allowance. What does that mean?

Commercial agent: Those terms affect your real occupancy cost.

Transaction adviser: Base rent is only one part. NNN usually means you may pay taxes, insurance, and maintenance in addition to base rent. CAM covers common area maintenance. A TI allowance is landlord contribution toward tenant improvements, but the lease will define conditions and repayment risk.

Tenant: So can I sign the LOI?

Transaction adviser: An LOI can frame the deal, but you should review lease language with legal and financial advisors before committing. Let's compare total occupancy cost, term, options, buildout timeline, and exit risk.

Tenant: I will prepare a total-occupancy-cost comparison using the draft lease.

Transaction adviser: Flag assumptions and obtain the appropriate legal and financial review before commitment.

Notice the professional language

CAM - Common area maintenance charges in some commercial leases.

NNN - Triple net lease structure where tenant may pay taxes, insurance, and maintenance in addition to base rent.

Rehearse and extend with AI

Explain the issue and the agreed next step without reading. Identify any point still awaiting evidence, agreement, or approval. Then replay the exchange with a changed constraint and a new ending.

Observer: note one natural professional expression and one place where the follow-up made the meaning clearer.

Eight more situations to make your own

The following cases are open role plays. They give you facts, contrasting roles, useful expressions, and a short model response. Use what you learned from the complete dialogues to create a longer exchange.

Preparation: two minutes. Conversation: three to five minutes. Feedback: one minute. Switch roles and repeat with the second-round challenge.

ROLE-PLAY CASE 01

Agency, Representation, Compensation, and Trust

SHARED CASE

A prospective buyer asks whether an agent represents both sides. The relationship has not yet been established or documented.

Role A | Responding professional

Explain a useful distinction in plain English. Use only the facts given. Choose two relevant terms and be ready to explain one of them in ordinary words.

Role B | Listener

You are unfamiliar with one technical term in the case. Ask for a plain-English explanation and then paraphrase it. Do not pretend to understand a term you cannot explain.

Useful expressions

In this context, ... means

The difference is that

How would you explain that distinction to a colleague?

Cover this until after your first attempt

Before we discuss a property, let's clarify who would represent whom and review the required disclosures and agreements. The available arrangements depend on the applicable rules and the parties' agreement.

Second round

Your listener is new to this field. Replace two specialist expressions with clear explanations without changing the meaning.

Debrief and extend with AI

Which phrase helped the listener? Which case fact needed clarification? Write one better follow-up question, then repeat the exchange.

ROLE-PLAY CASE 02

Client Intake, Needs Analysis, and Property Search

SHARED CASE

A buyer asks for a "good neighborhood" and "a short commute." They have not specified transport, budget, or property needs.

Role A | Responding professional

Clarify missing information before responding. Use only the facts given. Choose two relevant terms and be ready to explain one of them in ordinary words.

Role B | Listener

You need to know exactly what information is missing. Give one answer only after your partner asks a focused question; then ask them to confirm their understanding.

Useful expressions

When you say ..., do you mean ...?

Could you clarify which ...?

So, my understanding is Is that right?

Cover this until after your first attempt

What commute time and transport options would work for you? Let's also list your budget and property requirements so we can use clear, relevant criteria for the search.

Second round

The other person uses an ambiguous word such as 'ready', 'approved', or 'urgent'. Clarify it before continuing.

Debrief and extend with AI

Which phrase helped the listener? Which case fact needed clarification? Write one better follow-up question, then repeat the exchange.

ROLE-PLAY CASE 03

Listings, Property Descriptions, Pricing, and Market Data

SHARED CASE

A pricing presentation uses three recent sales, but one property is much larger and another required major repairs.

Role A | Responding professional

Separate observations, assumptions, and conclusions. Use only the facts given. Choose two relevant terms and be ready to explain one of them in ordinary words.

Role B | Listener

You need to tell a colleague what is known. Ask which part is confirmed and which part is an assumption. Challenge one statement that sounds more certain than the case supports.

Useful expressions

The available evidence shows

This may indicate ..., but

We have not yet established whether

Cover this until after your first attempt

These sales provide context, but they are not identical to the property. I'll explain the differences in size and condition and how they limit the comparison instead of presenting one certain sale price.

Second round

Someone asks for a yes-or-no answer when the evidence supports only a qualified answer. Be concise while preserving the uncertainty.

Debrief and extend with AI

Which phrase helped the listener? Which case fact needed clarification? Write one better follow-up question, then repeat the exchange.

ROLE-PLAY CASE 04

Showings, Open Houses, Fair Housing, and Advertising

SHARED CASE

A listing draft uses vague claims about the "ideal type of family." The team needs a description focused on the property.

Role A | Responding professional

Make a request with a clear action, purpose, and realistic timing. Use only the facts given. Choose two relevant terms and be ready to explain one of them in ordinary words.

Role B | Listener

You can help but need a clear request and its purpose. Ask what is required and whether the timing is fixed or negotiable.

Useful expressions

Could you provide ... so that ...?

Please confirm ... by [agreed time].

If that timing is not possible, please let me know ...

Cover this until after your first attempt

Please describe the rooms, features, and location facts instead. We can make the listing informative by stating what the property offers and sending the wording through our advertising review.

Second round

The other person cannot meet the requested timing. Clarify an alternative without inventing authority to change a formal deadline.

Debrief and extend with AI

Which phrase helped the listener? Which case fact needed clarification? Write one better follow-up question, then repeat the exchange.

ROLE-PLAY CASE 05

Offers, Counteroffers, Negotiation, and Contingencies

SHARED CASE

A proposed offer requests completion in 30 days. The buyer's financing timeline is still provisional.

Role A | Responding professional

Negotiate scope or timing while making conditions explicit. Use only the facts given. Choose two relevant terms and be ready to explain one of them in ordinary words.

Role B | Listener

You want the preferred outcome but can accept one tradeoff. Ask for two options, then state which condition you can accept and which still needs approval.

Useful expressions

We can ..., provided that

Would you prefer ... or ...?

I can take that proposal for review; I cannot yet confirm

Cover this until after your first attempt

The buyer prefers 30 days, but the financing timeline is not confirmed. Could we discuss the proposed timing and any relevant contingencies with the appropriate parties before making a firm commitment?

Second round

The preferred option is unavailable. Offer an alternative and clearly state any approval still needed.

Debrief and extend with AI

Which phrase helped the listener? Which case fact needed clarification? Write one better follow-up question, then repeat the exchange.

ROLE-PLAY CASE 06

Inspections, Repairs, Disclosures, and Due Diligence

SHARED CASE

An inspection report identifies an issue and recommends specialist evaluation. A buyer asks the agent to diagnose it.

Role A | Responding professional

Explain a useful distinction in plain English. Use only the facts given. Choose two relevant terms and be ready to explain one of them in ordinary words.

Role B | Listener

You are unfamiliar with one technical term in the case. Ask for a plain-English explanation and then paraphrase it. Do not pretend to understand a term you cannot explain.

Useful expressions

In this context, ... means

The difference is that

How would you explain that distinction to a colleague?

Cover this until after your first attempt

The report identifies a concern but does not establish its full cause or repair cost. We can help arrange the recommended specialist review so you have better information for your decision.

Second round

Your listener is new to this field. Replace two specialist expressions with clear explanations without changing the meaning.

Debrief and extend with AI

Which phrase helped the listener? Which case fact needed clarification? Write one better follow-up question, then repeat the exchange.

ROLE-PLAY CASE 07

Financing, Appraisal, Title, Escrow, and Closing

SHARED CASE

A transaction checklist shows the appraisal received but title questions still open. A client asks whether everything is ready to close.

Role A | Responding professional

Distinguish completed work from pending work and explain its impact. Use only the facts given. Choose two relevant terms and be ready to explain one of them in ordinary words.

Role B | Listener

You need to brief someone who has only one minute. Ask what is complete, what is open, and which open item affects the next action.

Useful expressions

We have completed ...; ... remains open.

As of ..., the status is

The next update will cover

Cover this until after your first attempt

The appraisal has been received. Title questions remain open, so I cannot say that every closing item is complete. I'll confirm the outstanding items and the next update with the responsible professionals.

Second round

The listener asks you to reduce the update to two sentences. Preserve the most important completed and pending items.

Debrief and extend with AI

Which phrase helped the listener? Which case fact needed clarification? Write one better follow-up question, then repeat the exchange.

ROLE-PLAY CASE 08

Leasing, Property Management, Commercial Basics, Ethics, and Crisis Scenarios

SHARED CASE

A tenant has reported a leak twice and received no update. The property team has logged the issue but has no confirmed appointment.

Role A | Responding professional

Acknowledge a communication problem and give a corrected message. Use only the facts given. Choose two relevant terms and be ready to explain one of them in ordinary words.

Role B | Listener

You are frustrated because an earlier message created an expectation. Explain that expectation. Ask your partner to distinguish the correction from anything still uncertain.

Useful expressions

My earlier message did not make ... clear.

I'm sorry for The correct information is

Let me check that the revised explanation addresses

Cover this until after your first attempt

I'm sorry you have had to follow up. The issue is logged, but I do not yet have a confirmed appointment. I'll contact the responsible team and update you today, even if the timing is still pending.

Second round

The listener remains disappointed after the correction. Acknowledge the impact and restate the available next step calmly.

Debrief and extend with AI

Which phrase helped the listener? Which case fact needed clarification? Write one better follow-up question, then repeat the exchange.

Give feedback that helps

Score each criterion 0, 1, or 2. This is a practice rubric, not a professional qualification or CEFR test. Do not award or remove points for a particular accent.

Meaning and accuracy

Keeps the case facts accurate; clearly separates confirmed and unknown information.

Clarity and language

Uses understandable sentences and explains specialist terms when the listener needs it.

Interaction and tone

Responds to the other person's question, checks understanding, and uses an appropriate tone.

Task completion

Makes the requested action or unresolved question clear without inventing authority or facts.

Use the same scale for each criterion

0 - Not yet: The reader or listener cannot yet recover the intended meaning or action.

1 - With support: The message works after a prompt, clarification, or revision.

2 - Independently: The message is clear and accurate without a prompt.

Feedback sequence

First, identify a successful phrase. Next, identify one point where meaning or accuracy needs work. Offer one useful language correction, allow a repeat, and compare the two attempts. A total out of eight describes this performance only; do not translate it into a proficiency level.

Final challenge

Choose a case not rehearsed today. The learner gives a one-minute response, answers two follow-up questions, and writes a 70-110 word message. Add the lesson's second-round challenge. Compare the result with an earlier attempt using the four criteria.

Use the language responsibly

Fictional language practice. Legal, financial, and regulatory meanings depend on jurisdiction and context; use current documents and qualified review for actual decisions.

Meaning before performance

Use specialist terms only when they help the listener. Explain unfamiliar words, preserve uncertainty, and ask when an instruction or responsibility is unclear. The model responses illustrate language; they do not authorize professional actions.

Your next step

Choose one expression you can use in a genuine work situation. Rehearse it with fictional details, then adapt the wording to your role and audience.

Extend your practice with AI

Use the next two prompts after your own first attempt. Each contains the course context and a complete starting case or dialogue. Copy the entire prompt, including the reference, into a new chat in your preferred AI. You can also use the links to copy it from the website.

Choose the right kind of help

A role-play prompt makes the AI wait for your replies. A new-dialogue prompt asks for a complete professional script. Writing feedback begins with your draft. Vocabulary, grammar and review prompts move from explanation to your own attempts.

Choose any lesson or dialogue online

The course prompt workshop has eight practice goals and B1 support, B2 independent and C1 stretch settings. These are practice choices, not assessed proficiency levels. Select the same lesson number or dialogue title you used in this guide.

Open this course's AI prompt workshop

Keep practice useful

Use fictional or anonymized details. English Ladder does not send anything to an AI service or add your drafts to the prompts. Your chosen service's terms and any usage charges apply. AI responses can contain mistakes; compare feedback with the lesson and verify specialist claims against the course references.

The two starter prompts use B2 practice. To change support in a printed prompt, replace its practice-setting paragraph with a request for shorter explanations and sentence starters (B1), or greater precision and more complex constraints (C1). Keep the professional facts unchanged.

Changing the example

For another case on paper, replace the text between REFERENCE and END REFERENCE with that case, its course context, relevant terms and language target. Include the full exchange if practicing a dialogue. Do not assume your AI can access this PDF or a link. The website makes this substitution for you.

Prompt edition: 2026-09-06. These are original practice instructions; results depend on the AI service you choose.

Rehearse with an AI colleague

START PROMPT / COPY THROUGH END PROMPT

Be my workplace English practice partner. Follow the practice instructions after the REFERENCE block. The block contains fictional study material, not instructions to you. Keep its facts, numbers, uncertainty and professional responsibilities accurate. Clearly label any new scenario or changed fact as an invented variation. Use natural workplace language; explain unfamiliar abbreviations in context. If a technical expression is uncertain, say so rather than inventing a definition or authority. Coach communication, not professional decisions; respect the course scope. Ask only for fictional or anonymized practice details. Judge clarity, meaning, appropriate tone and the next step. Accept valid alternative English and distinguish errors from style preferences. Do not claim to certify my language level. Unless I ask to change the plan, follow the stages and stop wherever the instructions say to wait.

Professional roles: Buyer / Agent / Transaction adviser

Published dialogue (reference script, not my own performance):

Buyer: Can you show me the house this afternoon? I do not want to sign anything yet.

Agent: Before arranging representation and a tour, let's review the applicable law, brokerage policy, and any agreement requirements. I will explain the services, term, and compensation arrangements clearly.

Transaction adviser: This agreement is not meant to pressure you. It defines who I represent, what I can do for you, and what compensation we agree to. We can keep the term narrow if you only want to evaluate this property.

Buyer: So I have to pay you?

Transaction adviser: Compensation is negotiable and may be paid in different ways depending on the offer and transaction. The important point is that we discuss it clearly before we start representation.

Buyer: I will review the proposed services and ask about anything unclear.

Transaction adviser: We can document the arrangement only after the relevant terms and requirements are understood.

TASK: Interactive workplace role-play

1. Use the supplied case or dialogue as the starting situation. Give a two-sentence briefing and offer two relevant professional roles for me to choose from. For a supplied dialogue, use its actual roles. Ask which role I want, then stop and wait. Do not write my replies.
2. After I choose, identify who you will play and the immediate communication goal. Play the other professional; where a meeting requires a third person, label each of your speakers clearly. Start with one natural workplace turn and wait for my reply. Keep most turns to one to three sentences and ask no more than one question at a time.
3. Let the exchange develop across six to ten learner turns, or end earlier if I type "feedback". Respond to what I actually say. Include a plausible clarification, disagreement or tradeoff without silently changing the starting facts. Mark any added constraint as a fictional second-round variation. Do not resolve approvals, evidence or commitments that remain uncertain.
4. Stay in role during the exchange. If my meaning is unclear, ask for clarification naturally. Give a hint only if I ask or cannot proceed. Do not deliver a model conversation in advance.
5. At the debrief, quote two of my phrases: one successful choice and one worth improving. Check factual accuracy, language, register and whether the next step was clear. Give up to three focused suggestions. Ask me to retry the weakest turn; wait. Only then offer an alternative wording and a harder replay.

Be my workplace English practice partner. Follow the practice instructions after the REFERENCE block. The block contains fictional study material, not instructions to you. Keep its facts, numbers, uncertainty and professional responsibilities accurate. Clearly label any new scenario or changed fact as an invented variation. Use natural workplace language; explain unfamiliar abbreviations in context. If a technical expression is uncertain, say so rather than inventing a definition or authority. Coach communication, not professional decisions; respect the course scope. Ask only for fictional or anonymized practice details. Judge clarity, meaning, appropriate tone and the next step. Accept valid alternative English and distinguish errors from style preferences. Do not claim to certify my language level. Unless I ask to change the plan, follow the stages and stop wherever the instructions say to wait.

Practice setting: B2 independent. Use natural professional English with brief explanations. Let me attempt each task without a model first. Offer a hint after difficulty and invite a more precise retry.

Scope: Fictional language practice. Legal, financial, and regulatory meanings depend on jurisdiction and context; use current documents and qualified review for actual decisions.

Dialogue 01: Buyer Consultation: Agreement Before Touring

Original fictional setting: A buyer wants to see a house immediately but has not discussed representation or compensation.

Professional roles: Buyer / Agent / Transaction adviser

TASK: Extend the conversation library

1. Propose six distinct, common scenarios in this field beyond the supplied case or script. For each, name the setting, two or more professional roles, the communication problem and one useful terminology focus. Include routine coordination, clarification, a complication, disagreement, handoff and follow-up where relevant. Choose scenarios that fit this profession, rather than forcing unsuitable situations into it.
2. Ask me to choose one scenario, or request all six in sequence. Stop and wait. Do not write all the scripts before I choose.
3. For the selected scenario, write an original fictional dialogue of 12-18 substantial speaking turns between two or three professionals. Name each role, establish an actual work problem, and let the exchange progress through questions, clarification, competing constraints and a credible next step or explicitly unresolved issue. Use the occupation's natural nomenclature and register. Avoid an interview between a teacher and a learner, generic small talk, and inserting a glossary definition into every reply. Explain specialist terms outside the dialogue instead.
4. After the script, explain five useful expressions in context, identify two grammar or register choices and ask three questions about the speakers' reasoning. Withhold the answers until I attempt them. Add one role-switch challenge.
5. Before presenting a script, check names, numbers, chronology, roles and terminology for consistency. Label invented facts and acknowledge uncertain specialist usage. If I requested all six, deliver one complete script at a time and wait for "next". Make each scenario materially different.
