

Past events and background actions

Learner workbook

Put a finished event in its time context.

Understand the distinction

The past simple presents a finished event or a past state: I arrived at six; the room was quiet.
The past continuous presents an activity in progress around a past time: I was waiting at six.

Combine them to show background and an event: I was cooking when the phone rang. This does not always mean the first activity stopped. Add then, before, or after when the order needs to be explicit.

Compare the patterns

EVENT

The bus arrived at six.

A completed event.

BACKGROUND

I was waiting at the stop.

An activity in progress.

TOGETHER

I was waiting when the bus arrived.

The arrival happened during the wait.

Read each example and notice how its form changes the meaning. Use these distinctions to choose your answers on the following pages.

Check your understanding

Circle one answer for each question. There is one correct choice among the options shown. Check the answer key after choosing.

1. Choose: At eight yesterday, I ____ dinner. (was cooking / cook)

- A. cook
- B. am cooking
- C. was cooking

2. Which happened during the walk: I was walking when it began to rain?

- A. It began to rain.
- B. The walking began after the rain stopped.
- C. The walk had already ended.

3. Does was reading when the phone rang prove the reading stopped?

- A. Yes. Every past continuous action stops at the next event.
- B. No. The sentence does not state that.
- C. Yes. The phone call necessarily ended the reading.

Choose the best response

Choose the response that fits the situation. Check both its meaning and its grammar.

4. A neighbor knocked while you were working at home yesterday. Which pair reports that background and event?

A. I was working at home yesterday. A neighbor knocked on the door.

B. I am working at home yesterday. A neighbor knocks on the door.

C. I will work at home tomorrow. A neighbor may knock on the door.
