Your route through the book

01 Confirming the delivery destination, page 4

Resolve conflicting location information through specific questions, a complete read-back, and a request to correct the record.

02 Checking shipment counts, page 14

Compare document and physical quantities, distinguish cartons from contents, and report an unresolved shortage without assigning blame.

03 Updating an arrival estimate, page 26

Compare an estimated arrival with a receiving deadline and commit to a specific update without promising acceptance.

04 Describing a delivery exception, page 36

Record visible packaging condition, attribute a customer concern, and resist unsupported conclusions about contents or responsibility.

05 When the recipient cannot receive, page 48

Distinguish contact from availability, explain an unconfirmed wait, and refer delivery alternatives without inventing arrangements.

06 Explaining the booked service boundary, page 58

Explain the booked service, acknowledge a different need, and route a change request without promising price or timing.

07 Matching a return to its collection, page 70

Match goods to a return reference, isolate an unmatched item, and request clarification without silently expanding the collection.

08 Closing a route with a clear handoff, page 80

Hand over distinct delivery outcomes and unfinished records, attributing a reported reason and assigning each follow-up explicitly.

Keep the delivery story accurate.

A clear delivery conversation connects the shipment reference to a checked fact and a specific next action. It distinguishes an estimate from an appointment, an observation from a cause, and a received shipment from a successfully uploaded record.

Confirm the receiving point

A correct street address may still lead to the wrong suite or entrance. Repeat the consignee, unit number, and receiving point, and refer conflicting instructions for correction.
"Suite 4 uses the staffed front desk; the rear annex belongs to suite 6."

Give the basis of a discrepancy

State the documented count and the physical count together. Distinguish external packaging from uninspected contents, and do not turn a difference into an unsupported finding of loss or fault.
"The document lists twelve cartons; we count eleven. Contents have not been checked."

Separate estimates and commitments

An estimated arrival does not extend a receiving cutoff or confirm a later slot. Give a time for the next update without presenting it as a guaranteed delivery time.
"Arrival is estimated at 11:40; I will update you by 10:40 about the receiving arrangement."

Hand over ownership and status

Name each unfinished item separately and confirm who will act next. A person accepting a follow-up does not mean that a receipt has uploaded or a refused shipment has been resolved.
"Jo will check the missing receipt upload and contact customer service about the refusal."

Professional boundaries

All shipments, people, businesses, times, references, and service arrangements are fictional. This book teaches workplace English, not driving, loading, vehicle operation, cargo securement, legal liability, or regulatory compliance. Calls occur while the driver is safely parked or away from driving duties. Follow applicable road and working-time rules, carrier procedures, site safety requirements, and emergency arrangements. Do not use these dialogues as authorization to move, unload, leave, sign for, or alter the service for a real shipment.

A Read the situation

LESSON 01 / CONFIRMING THE DELIVERY DESTINATION

Resolve conflicting location information through specific questions, a complete read-back, and a request to correct the record.

The right address, the wrong entrance

Driver Leo is safely parked and calls receiving contact Hana about shipment 418 for Alder Books, 26 Mill Street, suite 4. The route note says rear annex. Hana confirms that the rear annex belongs to suite 6 and that suite 4 receives through its staffed front desk. Leo must report the conflict to dispatch for correction. The shipment has not been handed over, and this call does not itself update the route record or authorize a different delivery destination.

People: Leo, Delivery driver; Hana, Receiving contact.

Read the record

Choose one answer per question using the facts above.

1. Who is the shipment for?

A. The rear-annex tenant only
B. Alder Books in suite 4
C. Any business in the building
D. Alder Books in suite 6

2. What is wrong with the route note?

A. The front desk is unstaffed
B. The rear annex belongs to suite 6
C. The street number is missing
D. The shipment has already arrived elsewhere

3. What remains to be done?

A. Mark the shipment handed over
B. Change the consignee to suite 6
C. Describe the record as already corrected
D. Dispatch must correct the conflicting note

C Phrases that move the work forward

Identify the shipment
I am calling about shipment 418 for Alder Books.

Check the unit
The shipment lists suite 4; is that your unit?

Distinguish the annex
The rear annex belongs to suite 6.

Give the confirmed location
We use the staffed front desk.

Preserve the consignee
The recipient has not changed.

Refer the correction
I will ask dispatch to correct the note.

Avoid claiming handover
The shipment has not been handed over.

Explain the purpose
I want to avoid treating the annex as your receiving point.

Confirm the street
Is the address 26 Mill Street?

Name the conflict
My route note says rear annex.

Ask for the receiving point
Where does suite 4 receive deliveries?

Read back the full detail
Alder Books, suite 4, staffed front desk; correct?

Separate neighbors
Suite 6 is a different unit.

Keep status accurate
The route record has not been amended yet.

Check the source
Are you the receiving contact for suite 4?

Close the clarification
I have the corrected information to report to dispatch.

Precision in real exchanges

Purpose: Name the conflict
Useful wording: My route note says rear annex.

Purpose: Distinguish the annex
Useful wording: The rear annex belongs to suite 6.

D Choose the response that fits

Choose one response for each situation. Preserve the facts, the decision boundary, and the purpose of the exchange.

1. Which read-back matches the facts?

A. Alder Books, suite 6, rear annex.

B. Any desk at 26 Mill Street.

C. Suite 4, unattended rear annex.

D. Alder Books, suite 4, staffed front desk.

2. Which statement wrongly reports completion?

A. The shipment has not been handed over.

B. Dispatch has already corrected the note.

C. I will report the conflict to dispatch.

D. The annex belongs to suite 6.

3. A colleague needs the term for this meaning: Identifier used to locate a particular shipment. Which term fits?

A. stop number

B. rear annex

C. location conflict

D. shipment reference

4. Rebuild the exchange from "The right address, the wrong entrance". Leo: "That explains it. I was checking the building number again, but it's the entrance note that needs attention." Hana: [missing response] Leo: "Let me check I've got it: Alder Books, twenty-six Mill Street, suite four, staffed front desk. The rear annex is suite six." Which response belongs in the gap?

A. No, the rear annex belongs to suite six. We're in suite four; you've got the correct street number.

B. Your read-back is right. Please keep the suite number with the entrance so it doesn't get separated again.

C. Our receiving point is the staffed front desk. The other tenant uses the annex, so the two shouldn't be mixed up.

D. Please ask dispatch about that. I can confirm our entrance, but I can't change your route record from here.

Answers and explanations, page 106

> One useful distinction
> The street address is not the dispute. Suite 4 and suite 6 use different receiving points. The shipment remains for Alder Books in suite 4; identifying the front desk does not transfer the shipment to another consignee.

01 Leo: Hello, I'm parked nearby with shipment 418 for Alder Books. Could I check the entrance? The address and route note don't seem to agree.

02 Hana: Yes, I'm the [1] _____ for Alder Books. Which address and entrance have you been given?

03 Leo: Twenty-six Mill Street, suite four. Under instructions it says rear annex. Does the annex serve your part of the building?

04 Hana: No, the [2] _____ belongs to suite six. We're in suite four; you've got the correct street number.

05 Leo: That explains it. I was checking the building number again, but it's the entrance note that needs attention.

06 Hana: Our [3] _____ is the staffed front desk. The other tenant uses the annex, so the two shouldn't be mixed up.

07 Leo: Let me check I've got it: Alder Books, twenty-six Mill Street, suite four, staffed front desk. The rear annex is suite six.

08 Hana: Your [4] _____ is right. Please keep the suite number with the entrance so it doesn't get separated again.

09 Leo: I haven't handed the shipment over. I'll report the conflict to dispatch before treating the instructions as corrected.

13 Leo: I'll report that Hana at receiving confirmed the staffed front desk for suite four, while the note points to the annex.

14 Hana: That describes the [7] _____ clearly. There's no correction to the street number itself.

15 Leo: Just checking: suite six isn't another department of Alder Books? I don't want the note to imply either desk can receive for you.

16 Hana: It's an [8] _____, separate from us. Your shipment names suite four, and that's the detail to preserve.

17 Leo: Thanks. I'll keep the delivery open while I speak with dispatch. This call hasn't completed the stop.

18 Hana: Right, no [9] _____ has taken place. You've confirmed where our receiving point is.

19 Leo: So I have corrected information to pass on, but the old route note is still there until dispatch amends it.

Return to the case

Driver Leo is safely parked and calls receiving contact Hana about shipment 418 for Alder Books, 26 Mill Street, suite 4. The route note says rear annex. Hana confirms that the rear annex belongs to suite 6 and that suite 4 receives through its staffed front desk. Leo must report the conflict to dispatch for correction. The shipment has not been handed over, and this call does not itself update the route record or authorize a different delivery destination.

Choose one answer per question. Use the case facts and keep any uncertainty or limits intact.

1. Which question targets the actual ambiguity?

A. Does the rear annex serve suite 4 or suite 6?
B. Does suite 4 still use number 26?
C. Is 418 the stop number or the shipment number?
D. Does Alder Books use a different trading name?

2. What should remain unchanged?

A. The assumption that all suites share an entrance
B. A false completed-handover status
C. The intended consignee, Alder Books
D. The incorrect rear-annex note

Answers and explanations, page 109

Listen for the distinction

Contrast suite 4 with suite 6 and the rear annex in turns 4 and 8.

Read back the detail that changes the action

LESSON 02 / CHECKING SHIPMENT COUNTS

Compare document and physical quantities, distinguish cartons from contents, and report an unresolved shortage without assigning blame.

Twelve on paper, eleven at receiving

At Finch Office Supplies, driver Priya and receiver Ben compare a bill of lading listing twelve cartons with their physical count of eleven. They agree on eleven present cartons. The contents have not been checked, and dispatch has not located a twelfth carton. The difference is one carton against the listed quantity, not a verified count of missing individual products. They need a factual discrepancy report and a dispatch follow-up, not a guess about where the carton was lost.

People: Priya, Driver; Ben, Receiver.

Read the record

Choose one answer per question using the facts above.

1. What does the bill of lading list?

A. One carton
B. Twelve pallets
C. Twelve cartons
D. Eleven individual products

2. What do Priya and Ben physically count?

A. Twelve cartons
B. Eleven verified products
C. One opened carton
D. Eleven cartons

3. What remains unknown?

A. The agreed physical carton count
B. The difference between twelve and eleven
C. Contents and the location of the twelfth carton
D. The listed carton count

C Phrases that move the work forward

Name the document
The bill of lading lists twelve cartons.

Give the difference
That is one carton short of the listed quantity.

Confirm agreement
Do you also have eleven in your count?

State the location limit
Dispatch has not located the twelfth carton.

Preserve both figures
Please record twelve listed and eleven counted.

Avoid inventing a result
I cannot say it is at another depot.

Keep the source clear
Twelve comes from the document; eleven comes from our count.

Summarize the issue
One carton is unaccounted for against the listed quantity.

State the observation
We have counted eleven cartons here.

Keep units explicit
I mean cartons, not individual products.

Separate contents
We have not checked the contents.

Avoid blame
We do not yet know the cause of the difference.

Ask for follow-up
Can dispatch investigate the unlocated carton?

Correct a broad claim
Eleven cartons does not mean eleven products.

Distinguish a trace
A trace request is not a confirmed location.

Close with the open item
The carton discrepancy remains unresolved.

Precision in real exchanges

Purpose: Keep units explicit
Useful wording: I mean cartons, not individual products.

Purpose: Confirm agreement
Useful wording: Do you also have eleven in your count?

D Choose the response that fits

Choose one response for each situation. Preserve the facts, the decision boundary, and the purpose of the exchange.

1. Which discrepancy report is accurate?

A. Eleven cartons prove all contents are complete.

B. Dispatch lost one carton at the depot.

C. Twelve cartons listed, eleven counted, contents unchecked.

D. Twelve products listed, eleven products received.

2. Which calculation matches the count?

A. Twelve cartons missing.

B. One carton below the listed quantity.

C. One carton above the listed quantity.

D. Eleven cartons missing.

3. A colleague needs the term for this meaning: Amount recorded on the relevant document. Which term fits?

A. unlocated carton

B. listed quantity

C. unchecked

D. shipping unit

4. Rebuild the exchange from "Twelve on paper, eleven at receiving". Ben: "I was about to write one item missing. That's too vague, isn't it? I haven't opened the boxes or counted the products inside." Priya: [missing response] Ben: "Right, it's the outer boxes we've counted. The paperwork shouldn't suggest we've checked every product or its condition." Which response belongs in the gap?

A. Dispatch has no confirmed location for the unlocated carton. I cannot say it is at another depot or promise a later delivery.

B. We should state that the contents are unchecked. That leaves a clear distinction between what we counted and what still needs verification.

C. Yes. The listed quantity is twelve cartons. I also count eleven cartons here, so our physical counts agree.

D. Keep the quantity basis as cartons. One missing outer box does not tell us how many individual products it contains.

Answers and explanations, page 111

> One useful distinction
> Twelve listed cartons minus eleven counted cartons gives a one-carton discrepancy. That calculation says nothing about the number of individual products missing or the contents of the cartons present, because no contents check has occurred.

15 Ben: That makes sense. I'll report the shortage without writing that someone lost it. We haven't established where the difference arose.

16 Priya: Thank you. Unsupported [8] _____ would go beyond what either of us observed. A precise count gives dispatch something concrete to investigate.

17 Ben: Can the follow-up use this shipment reference? I don't want it passed on as a query about one individual office-supply item.

Listen for the distinction

Repeat the contents-unknown line without changing cartons into individual products.

Count together, describe the difference neutrally

A receiving discrepancy can create pressure to assign blame immediately. State both figures and their sources, then identify what has not been checked. Agreement about a physical count does not establish the contents or the cause of a shortage.

Hana: [missing response] Leo: "Understood. I'd also like the note fixed for the next visit; otherwise another driver will have the same problem." Which response belongs in the gap?

A. Yes, I'm the receiving contact for Alder Books. Which address and entrance have you been given?
B. Exactly. The record amendment is pending. Suite four, staffed front desk is the receiving information to report.
C. No, the rear annex belongs to suite six. We're in suite four; you've got the correct street number.
D. The consignee is still Alder Books. We're not asking you to deliver to a different business.

4. Rebuild the exchange from "Twelve on paper, eleven at receiving". Ben: "Can the follow-up use this shipment reference? I don't want it passed on as a query about one individual office-supply item." Priya: [missing response] Ben: "Read-back: twelve cartons listed, eleven counted, contents unchecked, and no confirmed location for carton twelve. Have I missed anything?" Which response belongs in the gap?

A. The dispatch follow-up should use the shipment details and the one-carton difference. It must not invent an item count or a location.

B. We should state that the contents are unchecked. That leaves a clear distinction between what we counted and what still needs verification.

C. Dispatch has no confirmed location for the unlocated carton. I cannot say it is at another depot or promise a later delivery.

D. Thank you. Unsupported cause attribution would go beyond what either of us observed. A precise count gives dispatch something concrete to investigate.

LESSON 03 / UPDATING AN ARRIVAL ESTIMATE

Compare an estimated arrival with a receiving deadline and commit to a specific update without promising acceptance.

> An estimate after the cutoff
> Driver Omar is safely parked and calls dispatcher Mei at 10:20. His current estimated arrival is 11:40, but the receiver stops accepting this delivery at 11:30. No later slot has been confirmed. Mei can contact receiving and update Omar by 10:40, even if the question remains unresolved. The conversation must preserve the ten-minute mismatch, distinguish the update deadline from arrival, and avoid implying that the driver should rush or exceed any applicable driving or working-time limits.

People: Omar, Driver; Mei, Dispatcher.

Read the record

Choose one answer per question using the facts above.

1. When is arrival currently estimated?

A. 11:30
B. 11:40
C. 10:20
D. 10:40

2. How does the estimate compare with the cutoff?

A. Ten minutes after it
B. Ten minutes before it
C. Exactly at it
D. One hour before it

3. What can Mei commit to?

A. An update by 10:40, even if unresolved
B. Delivery by 10:40
C. Automatic acceptance at 11:40
D. A confirmed later slot already booked

C Phrases that move the work forward

State the call time
It is 10:20, and I am parked for this call.

Name the cutoff
Receiving has an 11:30 cutoff.

Avoid minimizing
We should flag the mismatch now.

Ask about confirmation
Has receiving agreed to a later slot?

Assign the contact
I will contact receiving about the timing.

Keep the commitment even if unresolved
You will hear from me even if their answer is still pending.

Reject a false appointment
A request for 11:40 is not a confirmed appointment.

Avoid pressure to rush
We need a receiving decision, not a promise to make up time.

Give the estimate
My current estimated arrival is 11:40.

Quantify the mismatch
That puts the estimate ten minutes after the cutoff.

Keep the estimate provisional
11:40 is an estimate, not a guarantee.

State the open status
No later slot is confirmed yet.

Commit to an update
I will update you by 10:40.

Distinguish the times
10:40 is the update deadline, not the arrival time.

Protect the factual record
Keep the 11:30 cutoff in the message.

Close the handoff
I own the receiving call and the next update.

A. ETA 11:40; cutoff 11:30; later slot unconfirmed.

B. ETA 10:40; cutoff extended automatically.

C. Arrival guaranteed by 11:30.

D. Receiving has accepted 11:40.

2. What does by 10:40 refer to?

A. The time Omar must begin driving

B. The deadline for Mei's update

C. Guaranteed delivery completion

D. A new receiving cutoff

3. A colleague needs the term for this meaning: Specific time allocation that requires confirmation. Which term fits?

A. by

4. Rebuild the exchange from "An estimate after the cutoff". Omar: "Please make clear it's still an estimate. I don't want eleven forty going into their system as a guaranteed arrival." Mei: [missing response] Omar: "When will you update me? Even a message saying you're still waiting would help me know where things stand." Which response belongs in the gap?

A. I'll make a rescheduling request. For now I'll leave the eleven-thirty cutoff in the record, not replace it with your estimate.

B. I will. A confirmed appointment still needs an accepted arrangement. I own the contact and the update by ten forty.

C. Right. I'll keep driver availability and the applicable rules in view. This isn't a request to rush or change your duty record.

D. Yes, your estimated time of arrival is eleven forty. I'll give them that and ask whether a later arrangement is possible.

Listen for the distinction

Repeat the by-10:40 commitment and stress that an unresolved answer still gets an update.

An early warning is useful before there is a solution

A dispatcher needs the current estimate, the receiving constraint, and the next contact time. Report a likely mismatch plainly. Do not hide it inside an optimistic phrase such as nearly on time or turn a request for a later slot into an accepted appointment.

F Say it / transfer to a new case

Choose one answer per question. Use the case facts and keep any uncertainty or limits intact.

1. What does a follow-up referral establish?

A. Legal liability has been decided.
B. A refund has been authorized.
C. The shipment must be accepted.
D. The issue is being routed for review, not approved as a claim.

2. Which distinction separates the observed condition from the still-unchecked condition?

A. One receiving entrance versus another receiving entrance.
B. Claim approval versus payment of a claim.
C. Packaging condition versus uninspected contents.
D. This delivery date versus the previous delivery date.

4. Rebuild the exchange from "A crushed corner is not a finding of fault". Ellis: "Please refer it. I'll keep the packaging observation separate from whatever an inspection later finds inside." Nia: [missing response] Ellis: "All right. We've agreed what to report, but we haven't decided what caused it, what the equipment's condition is, or what happens with a claim." Which response belongs in the gap?

A. That distinction matters. Internal damage remains unverified. The packaging condition is visible, and both facts should remain in the report.

B. The condition notation should clearly describe the corner. Saying the contents are uninspected does not remove or minimize that visible concern.

C. I will keep that precise: a crushed corner on one carton, at the lower corner, with the contents still unopened and uninspected.

D. Correct. I am not deciding liability in either direction. I am separating the observation from questions that need the appropriate review.

LESSON 05 / WHEN THE RECIPIENT CANNOT RECEIVE

Distinguish contact from availability, explain an unconfirmed wait, and refer delivery alternatives without inventing arrangements.

The contact answers, but the office is closed

At 14:10, driver Sam is safely parked outside the closed receiving office of Marlow Design. Listed contact Lina answers the phone and says she can return at 15:00, fifty minutes later. Sam cannot commit to waiting until then. Dispatch can review redelivery; whether collection from a carrier location is available remains unknown. Nothing authorizes leaving the shipment unattended, marking it received, or promising a new slot. Sam and Lina clarify what dispatch needs to review.

People: Sam, Delivery driver; Lina, Listed receiving contact.

Read the record

Choose one answer per question using the facts above.

1. What is the situation at 14:10?

A. A new delivery appointment is booked
B. The receiving office is closed
C. Lina is at the receiving desk
D. The shipment has been received

2. When can Lina return?

A. Tomorrow at an agreed time
B. 15:00, fifty minutes later
C. 14:15, five minutes later
D. 14:10 immediately

3. Which alternative can be reviewed but is not confirmed?

A. Unattended delivery already authorized
B. Collection definitely available
C. Waiting until 15:00 already agreed
D. Redelivery through dispatch

Return to the case

Customer Rafael expects a household delivery to be carried upstairs. Driver Amara checks the booking, which specifies curbside delivery and does not include inside service. Amara cannot add upstairs placement. Dispatch can review a possible upgrade or rearrangement, but no availability, price, or timing is known. Rafael asks for that review. The conversation does not authorize an immediate service change, direct the customer to move the goods, or establish that any shipment has been unloaded or accepted.

Choose one answer per question. Use the case facts and keep any uncertainty or limits intact.

1. What does Rafael's review request authorize in the dialogue?

A. Referring the request to dispatch, not performing the upgrade.
B. Immediate upstairs placement.
C. Automatic assembly and installation.
D. Treating unloading as completed.

2. Which summary keeps all uncertainties?

A. The customer must move the goods upstairs personally.
B. Upgrade availability, price, and timing remain unknown.
C. Only timing is unknown; everything else is approved.
D. The service has been amended and accepted.

Listen for the distinction

Read price, availability, and timing as three unanswered questions.

Explain the boundary without blaming the customer

A customer may use delivery to mean placement in the room where an item will be used. Name the actual booked service and acknowledge the mismatch. Offer a specific route for review without implying that personal effort or an unapproved payment can change the booking.

I don't want this careful wording to become a rejection of the concern." Which response belongs in the gap?

A. That would be a causal claim we have not established. I can report your concern, but I cannot state driver-caused damage as a verified conclusion.
B. I will make a follow-up referral through our carrier process. Reporting the issue does not itself approve a claim or decide how it will be resolved.
C. Yes. That is an attributed statement: you are concerned about possible internal damage. It is different from recording confirmed broken equipment as an observed fact.
D. We can state the inspection status explicitly. The contents are unopened and uninspected, so I cannot confirm that they are fine or that they are broken.

> Driver Kai arrives for return collection R62, which lists two printer cartons. Customer Dana presents those two identifiable cartons and a third carton of cables without a matching collection reference. Dispatch can query the extra carton, but no authorization to add it has been received. The two printer cartons remain identifiable under R62. The conversation establishes the mismatch and next query; it does not confirm that any carton has been loaded, collected, rejected permanently, or credited to the customer.

People: Kai, Driver; Dana, Customer.

Read the record

Choose one answer per question using the facts above.

1. What does R62 list?

A. Two printer cartons
B. Three cable cartons
C. One printer and one cable carton
D. Two cable cartons and one printer carton

2. Which item lacks a matching reference?

A. Both identified printer cartons
B. The R62 document itself
C. The second printer carton
D. The third carton of cables

3. What is established by the discussion?

A. A customer credit has been approved
B. The mismatch and a dispatch query, not completed collection
C. All three cartons have been loaded
D. The extra carton is permanently rejected

C Phrases that move the work forward

Identify the booking
I am here for return collection R62.

Confirm the matched items
These two printer cartons match R62.

Identify the missing link
I do not have a matching reference for that carton.

Ask for clarification
Is there a separate collection reference for the cables?

Refer the query
Dispatch can query the additional carton.

Avoid permanent rejection
Unmatched does not mean permanently rejected.

Distinguish status
Matching the reference does not mean the goods are already collected.

Read back the difference
Two booked, three presented, with one unmatched cable carton.

State the booked count
The booking lists two printer cartons.

Name the additional item
The third carton contains cables according to your description.

Keep the sets separate
The original two are identifiable; the cable carton is the open question.

Avoid silent expansion
I cannot treat R62 as a three-carton booking without confirmation.

Keep approval pending
No collection amendment has been authorized yet.

Preserve the item description
Two printer cartons, not three printer cartons.

Avoid a credit promise
This check does not approve a customer credit.

Close with the exact query
The next question is whether the cable carton has an authorized collection arrangement.

Precision in real exchanges

Purpose: Name the additional item
Useful wording: The third carton contains cables according to your description.

Purpose: Identify the missing link
Useful wording: I do not have a matching reference for that carton.

D Choose the response that fits

Choose one response for each situation. Preserve the facts, the decision boundary, and the purpose of the exchange.

1. Which read-back is accurate?

A. R62 lists two printer cartons; the cable carton is unmatched.

B. R62 lists three printer cartons.

C. No carton matches any record.

D. The cable carton has already been added.

2. Which action is available in the conversation?

A. Declare a customer credit approved.

B. Mark all three cartons collected.

C. Ask dispatch to query the extra carton.

D. Invent a matching reference.

3. A colleague needs the term for this meaning: Formal return identifier or process, commonly RMA. Which term fits?

A. serial number

B. additional carton

C. return merchandise authorization

D. loaded status

4. Rebuild the exchange from "Two booked cartons and one extra". Kai: "Not on the record I've got. We need to check the extra carton rather than quietly change a two-carton collection to three." Dana: [missing response] Kai: "Yes. I'll give them the cable description and explain that the printers match but the extra box doesn't have a reference here." Which response belongs in the gap?

A. Does the extra box cancel the whole collection booking, or can the record still show which two match?

B. I don't have a matching reference for that one. Can you ask dispatch whether it's covered by another arrangement?

C. I thought the return reference covered everything we were returning together. Does that not include this separate box?

D. And no collected status yet. We're still checking the paperwork, not saying you've taken any of these cartons.

01 Kai: I'm here for return R62. It lists two printer cartons, but there are three cartons ready here. Could we check which is which?

02 Dana: These two are the printers. The third is a [1] _____. I packed the cables separately because they go with the printers.

03 Kai: The two printer cartons match R62. I don't have a matching collection reference for the cables.

04 Dana: I thought the [2] _____ covered everything we were returning together. Does that not include this separate box?

06 Dana: I don't have a [3] _____ for that one. Can you ask dispatch whether it's covered by another arrangement?

07 Kai: Yes. I'll give them the cable description and explain that the printers match but the extra box doesn't have a reference here.

08 Dana: Please keep the [4] _____ as two printer cartons while they check. There aren't three printers.

09 Kai: Exactly. Two printer cartons linked to R62, plus one separate carton you've described as cables.

Driver Kai arrives for return collection R62, which lists two printer cartons. Customer Dana presents those two identifiable cartons and a third carton of cables without a matching collection reference. Dispatch can query the extra carton, but no authorization to add it has been received. The two printer cartons remain identifiable under R62. The conversation establishes the mismatch and next query; it does not confirm that any carton has been loaded, collected, rejected permanently, or credited to the customer.

Choose one answer per question. Use the case facts and keep any uncertainty or limits intact.

1. Which statement goes too far?

A. The cable carton lacks a matching reference.
B. The original two printer cartons remain identifiable.
C. No amendment is authorized yet.
D. The unmatched carton is permanently rejected.

2. Which status distinction is essential?

A. Related equipment always shares one booking.
B. A query automatically approves an extra carton.
C. Reference matched is not the same as collection completed.
D. Any return automatically creates a refund.

Answers and explanations, page 139

Listen for the distinction

Repeat the distinction between two matched cartons and one unmatched carton.

Separate the extra item from the valid reference

A customer may reasonably group related equipment together, while the collection record identifies a narrower set. Explain which items match and which item needs clarification. Avoid turning one unmatched carton into a claim that the entire collection is invalid.

F Say it / transfer to a new case

Match another return accurately

Return S73 lists three monitor cartons. The customer presents those three and an extra keyboard carton without a matching reference. Dispatch can query the extra item; no amendment or collection is confirmed.

B. Good. I don't want each printer labelled an unmatched item because I've brought out an extra box.

Language for the next case

Whose nine thirty?

CDT

The appointment is 09:30 Central Daylight Time, not 09:30 on the dispatcher's Eastern clock.

Joel: Receiving confirmed nine thirty CDT, Central Daylight Time, on thirteen October. That is their local appointment time.

10:30

09:30 at UTC-5 is the same instant as 10:30 at UTC-4, on the same date.

Joel: Correct. The same appointment is 10:30 on the Eastern daylight clock. Don't replace the label and keep nine thirty unchanged.

UTC

Coordinated Universal Time gives a common reference: both local appointment times convert to 14:30 UTC.

Joel: Exactly. In UTC, Coordinated Universal Time, it is fourteen thirty. Keep the date with each version.

fifteen

09:15 CDT is fifteen minutes before the 09:30 CDT appointment, after both times are put on the same clock.

Joel: Yes. Your estimate is fifteen minutes before the appointment, not forty-five minutes late.

time zone

The time-zone label identifies which local clock a number belongs to; omitting it creates an invalid comparison.

Joel: The time zone is part of the time, not an optional extra. Read both the number and the clock label.

check-in procedure

A confirmed appointment does not grant early gate entry; the actual check-in procedure remains applicable.

Joel: The check-in procedure still applies. We don't have a promise of early entry or a parking instruction from this time conversion.

Whose nine thirty?

Fictional shipment T84: receiving confirms 13 October 2026 at 09:30 Central Daylight Time (CDT, UTC-5). Dispatch uses Eastern Daylight Time (EDT, UTC-4). The parked driver's current ETA is 10:15 EDT that day. The gate requires its actual check-in process; no early entry is promised. Priya and Joel clarify the shared record.

Complete the numbered gaps. Use each bank entry once; some entries contain several words.

01 Priya: I'm parked and checking T84. The appointment says nine thirty, but my dispatch screen uses Eastern time. Which clock does the booking mean?

02 Joel: Receiving confirmed nine thirty [1] _____, Central Daylight Time, on thirteen October. That is their local appointment time.

03 Priya: Their offset is UTC minus five, and our Eastern daylight setting is UTC minus four. So our clock is an hour ahead of theirs.

04 Joel: Correct. The same appointment is [2] _____ on the Eastern daylight clock. Don't replace the label and keep nine thirty unchanged.

05 Priya: Then nine thirty Central and ten thirty Eastern are one appointment, not two slots an hour apart. We haven't asked to reschedule it.

06 Joel: Exactly. In [3] _____, Coordinated Universal Time, it is fourteen thirty. Keep the date with each version.

07 Priya: My ETA currently reads ten fifteen Eastern daylight time on thirteen October. That should be nine fifteen on the receiving clock.

08 Joel: Yes. Your estimate is [4] _____ minutes before the appointment, not forty-five minutes late.

09 Priya: I'd nearly compared ten fifteen on my screen directly with the unlabelled nine thirty in the note. That would have given the wrong impression.

10 Joel: The [5] _____ is part of the time, not an optional extra. Read both the number and the clock label.

11 Priya: Will the gate take me at nine fifteen Central if that estimate holds, or does the appointment only settle the booked time?

12 Joel: The [6] _____ still applies. We don't have a promise of early entry or a parking instruction from this time conversion.

13 Priya: All right. I won't treat fifteen minutes early as permission to enter or unload. I'll use the actual site directions.

14 Joel: And keep the ETA provisional. Converting it to another clock doesn't turn the estimate into a guaranteed arrival.

15 Priya: Could you keep Central as the receiving reference and put Eastern beside it? That would help when the desk calls us back.

16 Joel: Yes: thirteen October, zero nine thirty CDT, equivalent to ten thirty EDT. I'll retain the same shipment reference, T84.

17 Priya: Do we use those daylight offsets for every date? I've seen the same place described as Central standard time elsewhere.

18 Joel: No. Verify the location and date. Standard and daylight labels have different offsets; don't carry today's conversion into a different season without checking.

19 Priya: My read-back is T84, thirteen October, nine thirty CDT; ten thirty EDT; fourteen thirty UTC. ETA ten fifteen EDT is nine fifteen CDT.

20 Joel: That's consistent. One appointment, one provisional ETA, the same date, and no automatic early-access permission. Those are the details the next dispatcher needs.

Three clocks in a waiting bill

check-in timestamp

The actual check-in remains 07:40; choosing a contractual billing start does not change when the driver arrived.

Farah: No. The check-in timestamp stays seven forty. Eight is the later of your check-in and the booked appointment, which this contract uses.

dwell time

From 07:40 to 10:35 is 175 elapsed minutes at the facility; that is distinct from the contractual chargeable interval.

Farah: Yes, the dwell time is one hundred seventy-five minutes on those endpoints. We keep that actual duration in the record.

free time

The contract's 120 free minutes run from 08:00 to 10:00; free describes billing, not off-duty time or wages.

Farah: Correct. Here free time means the contractual period without this detention charge. It does not mean you were off duty or unpaid.

chargeable interval

The period after the 10:00 end of free time and before 10:35 release is 35 minutes under these fictional terms.

Farah: That's the chargeable interval under these terms. The early twenty minutes remain in the event record but don't move the billing start.

billing units

Thirty-five minutes occupies three started fifteen-minute blocks; the third partial block is charged under the stated contract.

Farah: So the billing units are three blocks. At twenty dollars each, the calculated charge is sixty dollars.

release timestamp

The release remains 10:35; rounding the charge into three blocks does not change the actual event to 10:45.

Farah: No. Preserve the actual release timestamp of ten thirty-five. Rounding belongs in the calculation, not in a fabricated event time.

02 Farah: No. The [1] _____ stays seven forty. Eight is the later of your check-in and the booked appointment, which this contract uses.

03 Leon: So the time physically at the facility is two hours fifty-five, even though the allowance starts twenty minutes after I checked in.

04 Farah: Yes, the [2] _____ is one hundred seventy-five minutes on those endpoints. We keep that actual duration in the record.

05 Leon: The contract gives one hundred twenty minutes from eight. That takes the no-charge period to ten, rather than nine forty.

13 Leon: Then the worksheet should show actual dwell one seventy-five, contractual chargeable interval thirty-five, and three billed blocks.

14 Farah: Yes. Calling all three figures waiting time without labels would make the invoice look inconsistent when each has a different purpose.

15 Leon: Is the two-hour allowance something I should assume for every customer, or does this contract happen to specify it?

16 Farah: Use this contract only for this case. Other terms may use another trigger, allowance, rate, or rounding method. Don't present our example as a universal rule.

17 Leon: And the sixty is the result to submit for billing review, not proof the customer has approved the invoice or that I personally receive sixty?

18 Farah: Correct. Customer approval and driver compensation are separate matters. This calculation establishes neither, and it doesn't classify your duty status.

19 Leon: I'll retain seven forty check-in, eight appointment, ten thirty-five release, plus the contract wording supporting the three-block calculation.

A car route is not a truck route

clearance conflict

The vehicle height of 4.12 m exceeds the posted 3.90 m clearance, so the suggested route has a direct height conflict.

Neil: That is a clearance conflict. The vehicle is taller than the posted opening, not shorter. Don't use that route suggestion as clearance.

vehicle profile

The vehicle profile must reflect the actual truck; a passenger-car profile does not establish a suitable route for H7.

Neil: Then the vehicle profile is wrong for this job. Use the carrier's process for checking vehicle data and an appropriate commercial route.

route restrictions

Route restrictions include more than a single height figure; route C's complete suitability remains unverified.

Neil: Correct. Current route restrictions still need review, including the relevant vehicle dimensions and weight restrictions. A higher number is not a complete route assessment.

twenty-two centimeters

4.12 m minus 3.90 m equals 0.22 m, or 22 cm, by which the vehicle exceeds the posted clearance.

Neil: State twenty-two centimeters above the posted clearance. The car route hasn't accounted for the dimensions we're discussing.

difference

4.30 m minus 4.12 m gives a nominal 0.18 m difference, not an authorization or guarantee of safe passage.

Neil: The arithmetic difference is point one eight meters, eighteen centimeters. That number alone doesn't approve the route.

approval status

Route C is proposed and unverified, not approved merely because its listed clearance exceeds the recorded vehicle height.

Neil: Keep its approval status explicit. The appropriate route checks and authorization are still required before treating it as the plan.

15 Rosa: Would it help to keep both units in the note: zero point two two meters and twenty-two centimeters, with exceeds rather than spare clearance?

B Correct. This is Priya's response in turn 14. It connects Ben's preceding point with Ben's follow-up. Joint count confirms agreement on what is present but does not establish whether the paperwork or movement caused the difference.

C Not here. This line belongs to turn 8, after Ben says: "Right, it's the outer boxes we've counted. The paperwork shouldn't suggest we've checked every product or its condition." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

D Not here. This line belongs to turn 4, after Ben says: "Then we're one carton short against the document. I'll include both totals so the difference isn't mistaken for the received count." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

03 / Answers and explanations

A / Read the situation

A1. When is arrival currently estimated?

B. 11:40

The arrival estimate is eleven forty, separate from the call and update times.

Return to the exercise, page 26

A2. How does the estimate compare with the cutoff?

A. Ten minutes after it

Eleven forty is ten minutes later than the eleven-thirty receiving cutoff.

Return to the exercise, page 26

A3. What can Mei commit to?

A. An update by 10:40, even if unresolved

Mei can provide a communication update without guaranteeing the receiving decision.

Return to the exercise, page 26

D / Response choices

D1. Which update is accurate?

A. ETA 11:40; cutoff 11:30; later slot unconfirmed.

The statement retains the estimate, unchanged cutoff, and unconfirmed later arrangement.

Return to the exercise, page 30

D2. What does by 10:40 refer to?

B. The deadline for Mei's update

Ten forty is a communication deadline, not a movement or delivery instruction.

03 / Answers and explanations / continued

D3. A colleague needs the term for this meaning: Specific time allocation that requires confirmation. Which term fits?

C. appointment slot

A Not here. by: No later than a stated time. The usual combination is "update by 10:40".

B Not here. revised estimate: Updated expectation based on current information. The usual combination is "issue a revised estimate".

C Correct. appointment slot: Specific time allocation that requires confirmation. The usual combination is "request an appointment slot".

D Not here. pending response: Reply that has not yet been received. The usual combination is "record a pending response".

Return to the exercise, page 30

D4. Rebuild the exchange from "An estimate after the cutoff". Omar: "Please make clear it's still an estimate. I don't want eleven forty going into their system as a guaranteed arrival." Mei: [missing response] Omar: "When will you update me? Even a message saying you're still waiting would help me know where things stand." Which response belongs in the gap?

D. Yes, your estimated time of arrival is eleven forty. I'll give them that and ask whether a later arrangement is possible.

A Not here. This line belongs to turn 4, after Omar says: "That's why I'm calling now. I don't have anything confirming that they'll accept this delivery after eleven thirty." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

B Not here. This line belongs to turn 20, after Omar says: "Thanks. I'll wait for that update without treating eleven forty as a booking. Keep the estimate and their cutoff separate." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

C Not here. This line belongs to turn 14, after Omar says: "I also can't promise to make up those minutes on the road. We need a workable receiving plan." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

D Correct. This is Mei's response in turn 6. It connects Omar's preceding point with Omar's follow-up. The estimated time of arrival is the provisional 11:40 expectation, not an accepted appointment.

Return to the exercise, page 30

E / Conversation

1. receiving cutoff

Turn 2. The receiving cutoff is 11:30; an 11:40 estimate is ten minutes after it and does not extend it.

2. rescheduling request

Turn 4. A rescheduling request asks for a changed receiving arrangement; it does not itself confirm a new slot.

03 / Answers and explanations / continued

3. estimated time of arrival

Turn 6. The estimated time of arrival is the provisional 11:40 expectation, not an accepted appointment.

4. by

Turn 8. By means no later than 10:40 for the communication; it says nothing about delivery completion.

5. status update

Turn 10. A status update conveys the latest position even if receiving has not yet decided on the request.

6. time mismatch

Turn 12. The mismatch is the ten minutes between the 11:30 cutoff and the later 11:40 arrival estimate.

7. driver availability

Turn 14. Driver availability includes lawful and practical limits; a requested appointment cannot override applicable rules or safe operation.

8. later slot

Turn 16. No later receiving slot is confirmed; the dispatcher is only taking the contact action.

9. update deadline

Turn 18. 10:40 is the update deadline, separate from the call at 10:20 and the ETA at 11:40.

10. confirmed appointment

Turn 20. A confirmed appointment requires acceptance of a receiving arrangement; asking for it supplies no such acceptance.

Return to the conversation, page 32

F / Accuracy and scope

F1. Which sentence turns a request into a false result?

D. I will ask, so your 11:40 appointment is confirmed.

Asking receiving does not establish that receiving has accepted a later appointment.

Return to the exercise, page 34

F2. What should Omar do linguistically?

B. Report the timing conflict without promising to rush.

The useful message states the conflict and avoids unsafe or unsupported timing promises.

1. 14:20

Driver: Estimated arrival is 14:20.

Turn 1. Fourteen twenty is the provisional arrival time, not a confirmed appointment.

2. twenty

Dispatcher: That is twenty minutes after the cutoff.

Turn 2. Fourteen twenty follows the fourteen-hundred cutoff by twenty minutes.

3. 13:15

Driver: Your update is due by 13:15.

Turn 3. Thirteen fifteen is the promised communication deadline in the new scenario.

4. unconfirmed

Dispatcher: A later slot remains unconfirmed.

Turn 4. Receiving has not agreed to an alternative delivery time.

F / Rebuild the exchange

1. Rebuild the exchange from "An estimate after the cutoff". Omar: "I also can't promise to make up those minutes on the road. We need a workable receiving plan." Mei: [missing response] Omar: "Has anyone else already spoken to them, or is the later time still entirely unconfirmed?" Which response belongs in the gap?

D. Right. I'll keep driver availability and the applicable rules in view. This isn't a request to rush or change your duty record.

A Not here. This line belongs to turn 6, after Omar says: "Please make clear it's still an estimate. I don't want eleven forty going into their system as a guaranteed arrival." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

B Not here. This line belongs to turn 4, after Omar says: "That's why I'm calling now. I don't have anything confirming that they'll accept this delivery after eleven thirty." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

C Not here. This line belongs to turn 20, after Omar says: "Thanks. I'll wait for that update without treating eleven forty as a booking. Keep the estimate and their cutoff separate." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

D Correct. This is Mei's response in turn 14. It connects Omar's preceding point with Omar's follow-up. Driver availability includes lawful and practical limits; a requested appointment cannot override applicable rules or safe operation.

A / Read the situation

A1. What is actually visible?

A. A crushed lower corner on one carton

The observed condition concerns one carton corner, not inspected equipment inside.

Return to the exercise, page 36

A2. What has not been checked?

A. The contents

The carton remains unopened, so its internal contents have not been inspected.

Return to the exercise, page 36

A3. Which result is not established?

D. Internal damage and its cause

Neither the condition of the equipment nor responsibility follows from the observed packaging alone.

Return to the exercise, page 36

D / Response choices

D1. Which condition note matches the evidence?

C. One carton has a crushed lower corner; contents uninspected.

Only one external corner is observed, while internal condition remains unchecked.

D2. Which sentence acknowledges concern without asserting damage?

B. You are concerned that the equipment may be damaged.

The correct wording attributes a possibility while taking the receiver's concern seriously.

D3. A colleague needs the term for this meaning: State that can be directly observed. Which term fits?

A. visible condition

A Correct. visible condition: State that can be directly observed. The usual combination is "report the visible condition".

B Not here. claim: Formal request for a remedy through the applicable process. The usual combination is "refer a claim".

C Not here. wet patch: Visible damp area without an established source. The usual combination is "note a wet patch".

D Not here. delivery receipt: Record associated with receiving a delivery. The usual combination is "review the delivery receipt".

Return to the exercise, page 40

D4. Rebuild the exchange from "A crushed corner is not a finding of fault". Ellis: "If you only mention the box, could someone read that as me agreeing the equipment is fine? I haven't opened it." Nia: [missing response] Ellis: "Then say I'm concerned the equipment may be damaged. Keep that concern with the description of the lower corner." Which response belongs in the gap?

C. We can state the inspection status explicitly. The contents are unopened and uninspected, so I cannot confirm that they are fine or that they are broken.

A Not here. This line belongs to turn 8, after Ellis says: "Then say I'm concerned the equipment may be damaged. Keep that concern with the description of the lower corner." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

B Not here. This line belongs to turn 16, after Ellis says: "Who will review it next? I'm asking for follow-up, not expecting you to promise a replacement on the spot." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

C Correct. This is Nia's response in turn 6. It connects Ellis's preceding point with Ellis's follow-up. Inspection has not occurred, so neither damaged nor undamaged contents can be confirmed.

D Not here. This line belongs to turn 10, after Ellis says: "I think it happened during delivery, although I didn't see it happen. Can you include what I think without calling it proved?" It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

E / Conversation

1. visible condition

Turn 2. Visible condition is the crushed lower corner that can actually be observed, rather than uninspected equipment damage.

04 / Answers and explanations / continued

2. condition notation

Turn 4. Condition notation preserves the observed packaging issue without turning a concern into a finding about cause or contents.

3. inspection

Turn 6. Inspection has not occurred, so neither damaged nor undamaged contents can be confirmed.

4. attributed statement

Turn 8. Attributed statement identifies the receiver's concern as a concern rather than a verified internal-damage finding.

5. causal claim

Turn 10. Causal claim asserts how the condition arose, which neither the visible corner nor the receiver's suspicion establishes.

6. liability

Turn 12. Liability is responsibility for the event; this factual description neither establishes nor rejects it.

7. crushed corner

Turn 14. Crushed corner describes the lower-corner deformation on one carton, not a whole-shipment or equipment-damage finding.

8. follow-up referral

Turn 16. Follow-up referral routes the reported issue through the actual carrier process without promising a particular outcome.

9. Internal damage

Turn 18. Internal damage concerns the goods inside; their condition remains unknown because the carton has not been inspected.

10. claim approval

Turn 20. Claim approval would require an authorized decision, which this description and referral do not provide.

Return to the conversation, page 42

04 / Answers and explanations / continued

F / Accuracy and scope

F1. What does a follow-up referral establish?

D. The issue is being routed for review, not approved as a claim.

Referral starts or continues review without supplying a remedy or acceptance decision.

Return to the exercise, page 44

F2. Which distinction separates the observed condition from the still-unchecked condition?

C. Packaging condition versus uninspected contents.

The observed outer condition does not establish what happened inside the carton.

Return to the exercise, page 44

F / Guided speaking

1. tear

Driver: One carton has a tear in its upper side panel.

Turn 1. Tear is the observed external condition, not a finding about the goods inside.

2. unopened

Receiver: The contents are still unopened.

Turn 2. The carton has not been opened to examine the internal goods.

3. unverified

Driver: Internal damage remains unverified.

Turn 3. The concern does not establish damage before an appropriate inspection.

4. established

Receiver: The cause is not established.

Turn 4. The visible tear does not establish how or by whom it was caused.

F / Rebuild the exchange

1. Rebuild the exchange from "A crushed corner is not a finding of fault". Ellis: "Let's make the location exact: the lower corner of this carton. I'm not saying every carton has the same problem." Nia: [missing response] Ellis: "Who will review it next? I'm asking for follow-up, not expecting you to promise a replacement on the spot." Which response belongs in the gap?

B. I will keep that precise: a crushed corner on one carton, at the lower corner, with the contents still unopened and uninspected.

A Not here. This line belongs to turn 20, after Ellis says: "All right. We've agreed what to report, but we haven't decided what caused it, what the equipment's condition is, or what happens with a claim." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

B Correct. This is Nia's response in turn 14. It connects Ellis's preceding point with Ellis's follow-up. Crushed corner describes the lower-corner deformation on one carton, not a whole-shipment or equipment-damage finding.

C Not here. This line belongs to turn 12, after Ellis says: "You're not ruling out carrier responsibility either, are you? I don't want this careful wording to become a rejection of the concern." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

D Not here. This line belongs to turn 4, after Ellis says: "It's a bad dent, though. This equipment matters to us, and I don't want the note to make the problem sound trivial." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

A2. When can Lina return?

B. 15:00, fifty minutes later

Fifteen hundred is fifty minutes after the fourteen-ten call.

D. Redelivery through dispatch

Dispatch can review redelivery, but no new delivery arrangement has been approved.

Return to the exercise, page 48

D3. A colleague needs the term for this meaning: Location not currently open for the relevant service. Which term fits?

C. closed premises

A Not here. waiting commitment: Agreement to remain until a specified time. The usual combination is "avoid an unconfirmed waiting commitment".

B Not here. delivery attempt: Visit or action aimed at delivery, not necessarily successful handover. The usual combination is "record the delivery attempt".

C Correct. closed premises: Location not currently open for the relevant service. The usual combination is "report closed premises".

D Not here. new slot: Proposed replacement delivery time. The usual combination is "confirm a new slot".

Return to the exercise, page 52

D4. Rebuild the exchange from "The contact answers, but the office is closed". Sam: "I can pass the details to dispatch for a redelivery review. I don't have a new slot to offer on this call." Lina: [missing response] Sam: "It hasn't been scheduled. Dispatch needs to review what can be offered; I can't promise today or tomorrow." Which response belongs in the gap?

B. Would redelivery mean another visit today? I'd need to know before asking someone else to stay late.

A Not here. This line belongs to turn 10, after Sam says: "I don't know whether that's available for this shipment. Please don't travel to a carrier location before it's checked." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

B Correct. This is Lina's response in turn 6. It connects Sam's preceding point with Sam's follow-up. Redelivery is another delivery attempt; its date and time have not been agreed in this case.

C Not here. This line belongs to turn 12, after Sam says: "I'll pass on both. For the stop record, I've reached you by phone, but no one is here to receive the goods." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

D Not here. This line belongs to turn 8, after Sam says: "It hasn't been scheduled. Dispatch needs to review what can be offered; I can't promise today or tomorrow." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

1. listed contact

Turn 2. Lina is the named receiving contact and answers remotely, though she is not present to receive the goods.

05 / Answers and explanations / continued

2. return time

Turn 4. 15:00 is when Lina can return, not a commitment that the driver will wait until then.

3. redelivery

Turn 6. Redelivery is another delivery attempt; its date and time have not been agreed in this case.

4. collection option

Turn 8. A collection option would let Lina pick up the shipment at an appropriate carrier location, but availability is unknown.

5. service availability

Turn 10. Service availability concerns whether collection can actually be offered; preference alone does not confirm it.

6. received status

Turn 12. Received status would claim an actual handover that has not happened; an answered phone call is not receipt of goods.

7. contact outcome

Turn 14. The call was answered and receiving was unavailable in person; those facts must not become a no-response record.

8. release authorization

Turn 16. No permission for unattended release is established; the contact's future return time cannot supply it.

9. dispatch review

Turn 18. Dispatch review is the next assessment, not an already agreed new slot or collection arrangement.

10. unconfirmed alternative

Turn 20. Both redelivery and collection remain possible questions for review, not arrangements Lina can rely on yet.

F / Accuracy and scope

F1. Which collection statement is accurate?

C. Collection availability has not been confirmed.

Unknown availability supports neither a guaranteed collection nor a universal refusal.

Review is the available next step, while the final arrangement remains unconfirmed.

Amara: [missing response] Rafael: "Would it cost extra? Please don't take my asking as agreement to whatever the price turns out to be." Which response belongs in the gap?

D. I am explaining the service scope of this booking. Whether another service can be offered needs checking, so I should not give you a definite yes or no yet.

A Not here. This line belongs to turn 16, after Rafael says: "I want it handled through the booking, not an informal arrangement. I need a clear record of what's included." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

3. service scope

Turn 6. Service scope identifies what this booking includes; it does not establish every possible service the carrier offers.

4. quotation

Turn 8. Quotation would specify a checked price; none exists, and a question does not authorize an unknown charge.

5. timing confirmation

Turn 10. Timing confirmation is absent, so today or any replacement date cannot be promised.

6. upgrade request

Turn 12. Upgrade request names the proposed additional service for review without representing it as approved.

7. Assembly

Turn 14. Assembly means putting parts together and is separate from the placement request Rafael wants reviewed.

8. authorization

Turn 16. Authorization must cover the specific changed service; an informal understanding with the driver is not supplied here.

9. change acceptance

Turn 18. Change acceptance applies to a specific confirmed proposal; none has yet been offered or accepted.

First I need to know whether the item can be placed upstairs." Amara: [missing response] Rafael: "I want it handled through the booking, not an informal arrangement. I need a clear record of what's included." Which response belongs in the gap?

D. Understood. Assembly is separate from placement, and I will not expand your request into installation or other work you have not asked about.

A Not here. This line belongs to turn 2, after Rafael says: "I need it upstairs in my apartment. When I booked delivery, I thought that meant bringing it to the room where I'll use it." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

B Not here. This line belongs to turn 10, after Rafael says: "And could it happen today? I need to check both the price and the date before deciding." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

C Not here. This line belongs to turn 4, after Rafael says: "That's a problem. Can the upstairs part be added now? I wasn't planning for the item to stop outside." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

Dana: [missing response] Kai: "Yes. I'll give them the cable description and explain that the printers match but the extra box doesn't have a reference here." Which response belongs in the gap?

B. I don't have a matching reference for that one. Can you ask dispatch whether it's covered by another arrangement?

A Not here. This line belongs to turn 10, after Kai says: "Exactly. Two printer cartons linked to R62, plus one separate carton you've described as cables." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

B Correct. This is Dana's response in turn 6. It connects Kai's preceding point with Kai's follow-up. No matching reference links the cable carton to this pickup; dispatch needs to clarify its arrangement.

C Not here. This line belongs to turn 4, after Kai says: "The two printer cartons match R62. I don't have a matching collection reference for the cables." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

D Not here. This line belongs to turn 16, after Kai says: "Correct. It's a query, not an approved addition. It also isn't a permanent rejection of the cable carton." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

Return to the exercise, page 74

E / Conversation

1. cable carton

Turn 2. The cable carton is the additional third package, not another printer carton under the two-carton booking.

2. return reference

Turn 4. R62 is the return reference for two printer cartons; related accessories are not automatically added to it.

3. matching reference

Turn 6. No matching reference links the cable carton to this pickup; dispatch needs to clarify its arrangement.

4. booked quantity

Turn 8. The booked quantity is two printer cartons even though three cartons have been presented.

5. collection booking

Turn 10. The original booking still identifies two printer cartons; the additional question does not erase those matches.

6. unmatched item

Turn 12. Only the cable carton is unmatched; applying that label to the two identified printers would misstate the check.

7. collection amendment

Turn 14. A collection amendment is an authorized change, not the customer's question or dispatch inquiry by itself.

8. collected status

Turn 16. No pickup has been completed during this reference check, so collected status would be premature.

9. credit approval

Turn 18. A financial credit decision is separate from matching goods to a collection reference or completing a pickup.

10. collection scope

Turn 20. The recorded scope stays at the two printer cartons unless the extra item is properly confirmed and authorized.

Return to the conversation, page 76

F / Accuracy and scope

F1. Which statement goes too far?

D. The unmatched carton is permanently rejected.

Missing information now does not establish a permanent rejection decision.

Return to the exercise, page 78

F2. Which status distinction is essential?

C. Reference matched is not the same as collection completed.

Identity verification and actual collection are different stages with different evidence.

Return to the exercise, page 78

F / Guided speaking

1. monitor

Driver: S73 lists three monitor cartons.

Turn 1. Monitor cartons are the goods named in the recorded return scope.

2. keyboard

Customer: The extra carton contains a keyboard.

Turn 2. The keyboard carton is the additional item lacking a matching reference.

3. unmatched

Driver: The extra carton remains unmatched.

Turn 3. No record has yet linked the additional carton to the booking.

4. completed

Customer: The query does not mean collection is completed.

Turn 4. Reference clarification does not establish that any pickup has occurred.

F / Rebuild the exchange

1. Rebuild the exchange from "Two booked cartons and one extra". Kai: "I won't do that. I'll keep the matches and the extra-item query separate. Dispatch hasn't authorized adding the cables yet." Dana: [missing response] Kai: "Correct. It's a query, not an approved addition. It also isn't a permanent rejection of the cable carton." Which response belongs in the gap?

D. So any collection amendment is still pending. Asking you about the box hasn't changed the booking.

A Not here. This line belongs to turn 4, after Kai says: "The two printer cartons match R62. I don't have a matching collection reference for the cables." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

B Not here. This line belongs to turn 12, after Kai says: "The original two are still identifiable under R62. It's the additional cable carton that needs clarification." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

C Not here. This line belongs to turn 8, after Kai says: "Yes. I'll give them the cable description and explain that the printers match but the extra box doesn't have a reference here." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

D Correct. This is Dana's response in turn 14. It connects Kai's preceding point with Kai's follow-up. A collection amendment is an authorized change, not the customer's question or dispatch inquiry by itself.

08 / Answers and explanations

A / Read the situation

A1. What happened at stop 7?

C. Mei received the shipment at 16:05, but the receipt upload is missing

The physical receipt occurred, while its electronic document upload remains unfinished.

Return to the exercise, page 80

A2. What is the known reason given at stop 8?

C. The customer reported a duplicate order

Duplicate order is the customer's stated reason for refusal, not an independently verified finding.

Return to the exercise, page 80

A3. What does Jo accept?

B. Both unfinished follow-ups

Jo takes ownership of the receipt check and customer-service contact without completing them.

Return to the exercise, page 80

D / Response choices

D1. Which stop-7 statement is accurate?

A. Received by Mei at 16:05; receipt upload pending.

The statement preserves the receiver, timestamp, and separate unfinished electronic record.

Return to the exercise, page 84

D2. Which stop-8 wording preserves attribution?

C. The customer reported a duplicate order and refused the delivery.

The customer's explanation must remain attributed rather than promoted to a verified cause.

08 / Answers and explanations / continued

D3. A colleague needs the term for this meaning: Phrase naming the person who received goods. Which term fits?

B. received by

A Not here. reported duplicate: Alleged repetition of an order, not independently verified here. The usual combination is "record the reported duplicate".

B Correct. received by: Phrase naming the person who received goods. The usual combination is "record received by Mei".

C Not here. upload pending: Status indicating the electronic transfer is unfinished. The usual combination is "report upload pending".

D Not here. completion status: Whether a task has actually been finished. The usual combination is "preserve completion status".

D4. Rebuild the exchange from "One missing upload, one refusal". Luis: "Yes. Please don't mark that stop undelivered just because the upload is missing. The goods were received by Mei." Jo: [missing response] Luis: "At stop eight, the customer refused it and said the order was a duplicate. I haven't independently checked whether that's true." Which response belongs in the gap?

D. Understood. Record completeness is still in question, but the missing document does not erase your report that Mei received the shipment.

A Not here. This line belongs to turn 10, after Luis says: "Please have customer service review that account. I didn't agree a refund or promise that we'd deliver it again." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

B Not here. This line belongs to turn 4, after Luis says: "Mei received stop seven at sixteen oh five. The receipt hasn't uploaded, so you won't find the completed electronic record yet." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

C Not here. This line belongs to turn 20, after Luis says: "Then the handover's clear. I won't call the whole route closed just because you've agreed to take the follow-ups." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

D Correct. This is Jo's response in turn 6. It connects Luis's preceding point with Luis's follow-up. Record completeness concerns the missing receipt in the system and must not erase the actual receiving event.

E / Conversation

1. stop outcome

Turn 2. Stop outcome describes what actually happened at each location, before discussing unfinished records or follow-up.

08 / Answers and explanations / continued

2. receipt upload

Turn 4. Receipt upload is the unfinished electronic transfer, not an uncompleted physical delivery at stop seven.

3. Record completeness

Turn 6. Record completeness concerns the missing receipt in the system and must not erase the actual receiving event.

4. refusal reason

Turn 8. Refusal reason is the customer's reported duplicate order, not an independently established ordering error.

5. customer service

Turn 10. Customer service is the team Jo will approach about stop eight; that contact has not yet resolved the issue.

6. action owner

Turn 12. Action owner names Jo as responsible for both next steps without implying either step is already complete.

7. receipt timestamp

Turn 14. Receipt timestamp belongs to Mei's receiving event at stop seven and must not be reassigned to the refusal.

8. read-back confirmation

Turn 16. Read-back confirmation checks the two outcomes, pending tasks, and ownership before the driver leaves.

9. Independent verification

Turn 18. Independent verification of the alleged duplicate has not occurred, so the customer's reason remains an attributed report.

10. Route closure

Turn 20. Route closure requires the relevant process to be completed; this handoff only transfers the two unfinished actions.

08 / Answers and explanations / continued

F / Accuracy and scope

F1. Which handoff wrongly claims completion?

C. Jo accepted the tasks, so both issues are resolved.

Ownership acceptance assigns future work but does not supply its completed outcome.

Return to the exercise, page 88

F2. Which action pair belongs to Jo?

B. Check stop-7 receipt upload and contact customer service about stop 8.

The two assigned tasks match the distinct unfinished items in the briefing.

Return to the exercise, page 88

F / Guided speaking

1. Noor

Driver: Stop 3 was received by Noor at 12:25.

Turn 1. Noor is the named receiver for the physically completed receiving event.

2. pending

Dispatcher: The receipt upload remains pending.

Turn 2. The physical delivery does not establish completion of the electronic upload.

3. reported

Driver: The unwanted-order reason was reported by the customer.

Turn 3. Reported preserves attribution without claiming independent verification of the customer's explanation.

4. Ana

Dispatcher: The next action owner is Ana.

Turn 4. Ana accepts both unfinished follow-ups without claiming they are already completed.

F / Rebuild the exchange

1. Rebuild the exchange from "One missing upload, one refusal". Luis: "Thanks. Keep sixteen oh five with Mei at stop seven. It isn't the refusal time for stop eight." Jo: [missing response] Luis: "Could you read the two notes back before I leave? I want the different outcomes and next actions kept together correctly." Which response belongs in the gap?

C. I will preserve that receipt timestamp exactly. We have no supplied time for the stop-8 refusal, so I will not copy 16:05 onto it.

A Not here. This line belongs to turn 2, after Luis says: "Jo, I've got two open items from route twelve before I finish. Stop seven is a receipt issue; stop eight is a refusal." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

B Not here. This line belongs to turn 8, after Luis says: "At stop eight, the customer refused it and said the order was a duplicate. I haven't independently checked whether that's true." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

C Correct. This is Jo's response in turn 14. It connects Luis's preceding point with Luis's follow-up. Receipt timestamp belongs to Mei's receiving event at stop seven and must not be reassigned to the refusal.

D Not here. This line belongs to turn 4, after Luis says: "Mei received stop seven at sixteen oh five. The receipt hasn't uploaded, so you won't find the completed electronic record yet." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

1. A colleague needs the term for this meaning: Business transporting the shipment. Which term fits?

C. carrier

A Not here. handover: Transfer of goods to the appropriate receiving party. The usual combination is "confirm the handover".

B Not here. receiving contact: Person contacted about receiving a shipment. The usual combination is "call the receiving contact".

C Correct. carrier: Business transporting the shipment. The usual combination is "contact the carrier".

D Not here. route note: Written information supplied for a delivery stop. The usual combination is "check the route note".

Return to the exercise, page 24

2. A colleague needs the term for this meaning: A further count to check the original figure. Which term fits?

D. recount

A Not here. receiving tally: Count recorded when goods arrive. The usual combination is "compare the receiving tally".

B Not here. contents: Goods inside the outer packaging. The usual combination is "distinguish cartons from contents".

C Not here. bill of lading: Transport document recording shipment details and carriage terms, often BOL. The usual combination is "compare the bill of lading".

D Correct. recount: A further count to check the original figure. The usual combination is "request a recount".

3. Rebuild the exchange from "The right address, the wrong entrance". Leo: "I haven't handed the shipment over. I'll report the conflict to dispatch before treating the instructions as corrected." Hana: [missing response] Leo: "Understood. I'd also like the note fixed for the next visit; otherwise another driver will have the same problem." Which response belongs in the gap?

D. The consignee is still Alder Books. We're not asking you to deliver to a different business.

A Not here. This line belongs to turn 2, after Leo says: "Hello, I'm parked nearby with shipment 418 for Alder Books. Could I check the entrance? The address and route note don't seem to agree." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

B Not here. This line belongs to turn 20, after Leo says: "So I have corrected information to pass on, but the old route note is still there until dispatch amends it." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

C Not here. This line belongs to turn 4, after Leo says: "Twenty-six Mill Street, suite four. Under instructions it says rear annex. Does the annex serve your part of the building?" It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

D Correct. This is Hana's response in turn 10. It connects Leo's preceding point with Leo's follow-up. Alder Books remains the intended receiving party; the entrance correction does not redirect the shipment to another tenant.

4. Rebuild the exchange from "Twelve on paper, eleven at receiving". Ben: "Can the follow-up use this shipment reference? I don't want it passed on as a query about one individual office-supply item." Priya: [missing response] Ben: "Read-back: twelve cartons listed, eleven counted, contents unchecked, and no confirmed location for carton twelve. Have I missed anything?" Which response belongs in the gap?

A. The dispatch follow-up should use the shipment details and the one-carton difference. It must not invent an item count or a location.

A Correct. This is Priya's response in turn 18. It connects Ben's preceding point with Ben's follow-up. Dispatch follow-up concerns locating or explaining the unaccounted-for carton, while the existing count stays explicit.

B Not here. This line belongs to turn 8, after Ben says: "Right, it's the outer boxes we've counted. The paperwork shouldn't suggest we've checked every product or its condition." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

C Not here. This line belongs to turn 10, after Ben says: "Has dispatch found the twelfth carton anywhere? Our team will ask whether to expect another delivery, and I don't have an answer." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

D Not here. This line belongs to turn 16, after Ben says: "That makes sense. I'll report the shortage without writing that someone lost it. We haven't established where the difference arose." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

1. A colleague needs the term for this meaning: Time range arranged or expected for a delivery. Which term fits?

D. delivery window

A Not here. driver availability: Whether a driver can lawfully and practically perform the proposed work. The usual combination is "verify driver availability".

B Not here. update deadline: Latest time promised for the next communication. The usual combination is "state the update deadline".

C Not here. provisional: Subject to change rather than guaranteed. The usual combination is "give a provisional estimate".

D Correct. delivery window: Time range arranged or expected for a delivery. The usual combination is "clarify the delivery window".

2. A colleague needs the term for this meaning: Written note describing observed condition. Which term fits?

A. condition notation

A Correct. condition notation: Written note describing observed condition. The usual combination is "make a condition notation".

B Not here. delivery exception: Irregularity affecting a delivery; formal status meanings depend on the carrier. The usual combination is "report a delivery exception".

C Not here. fault: Responsibility for an event, not established by appearance alone. The usual combination is "avoid assigning fault".

D Not here. puncture: Hole made through packaging or material. The usual combination is "identify a puncture".

3. Rebuild the exchange from "Twelve on paper, eleven at receiving". Ben: "Has dispatch found the twelfth carton anywhere? Our team will ask whether to expect another delivery, and I don't have an answer." Priya: [missing response] Ben: "Please leave that open in the report. Agreeing that there are eleven here doesn't make the twelve-carton order complete." Which response belongs in the gap?

D. Dispatch has no confirmed location for the unlocated carton. I cannot say it is at another depot or promise a later delivery.

A Not here. This line belongs to turn 18, after Ben says: "Can the follow-up use this shipment reference? I don't want it passed on as a query about one individual office-supply item." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

B Not here. This line belongs to turn 16, after Ben says: "That makes sense. I'll report the shortage without writing that someone lost it. We haven't established where the difference arose." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

C Not here. This line belongs to turn 8, after Ben says: "Right, it's the outer boxes we've counted. The paperwork shouldn't suggest we've checked every product or its condition." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

D Correct. This is Priya's response in turn 10. It connects Ben's preceding point with Ben's follow-up. Unlocated carton states the present information limit without declaring a final loss or a known location.

Return to the exercise, page 46

4. Rebuild the exchange from "A crushed corner is not a finding of fault". Ellis: "Please refer it. I'll keep the packaging observation separate from whatever an inspection later finds inside." Nia: [missing response] Ellis: "All right. We've agreed what to report, but we haven't decided what caused it, what the equipment's condition is, or what happens with a claim." Which response belongs in the gap?

A. That distinction matters. Internal damage remains unverified. The packaging condition is visible, and both facts should remain in the report.

A Correct. This is Nia's response in turn 18. It connects Ellis's preceding point with Ellis's follow-up. Internal damage concerns the goods inside; their condition remains unknown because the carton has not been inspected.

B Not here. This line belongs to turn 4, after Ellis says: "It's a bad dent, though. This equipment matters to us, and I don't want the note to make the problem sound trivial." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

C Not here. This line belongs to turn 14, after Ellis says: "Let's make the location exact: the lower corner of this carton. I'm not saying every carton has the same problem." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

D Not here. This line belongs to turn 12, after Ellis says: "You're not ruling out carrier responsibility either, are you? I don't want this careful wording to become a rejection of the concern." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

A Not here. access requirement: Site or access detail relevant to reviewing the requested service. The usual combination is "confirm access requirements".

B Not here. price confirmation: Verification of the actual amount for the proposed service. The usual combination is "await price confirmation".

C Correct. upgrade request: Proposal to change to an additional or higher service level. The usual combination is "submit an upgrade request".

3. Rebuild the exchange from "A crushed corner is not a finding of fault". Ellis: "I think it happened during delivery, although I didn't see it happen. Can you include what I think without calling it proved?" Nia: [missing response] Ellis: "You're not ruling out carrier responsibility either, are you? I don't want this careful wording to become a rejection of the concern." Which response belongs in the gap?

A. That would be a causal claim we have not established. I can report your concern, but I cannot state driver-caused damage as a verified conclusion.

A Correct. This is Nia's response in turn 10. It connects Ellis's preceding point with Ellis's follow-up. Causal claim asserts how the condition arose, which neither the visible corner nor the receiver's suspicion establishes.

B Not here. This line belongs to turn 16, after Ellis says: "Who will review it next? I'm asking for follow-up, not expecting you to promise a replacement on the spot." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

C Not here. This line belongs to turn 8, after Ellis says: "Then say I'm concerned the equipment may be damaged. Keep that concern with the description of the lower corner." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

4. Rebuild the exchange from "Curbside is not upstairs placement". Rafael: "So I'll get the actual proposal before deciding? There isn't a confirmed extra service or charge for me to accept yet." Amara: [missing response] Rafael: "Please pass that on. We've discussed what I wanted, but nothing here says the upgrade or unloading has happened." Which response belongs in the gap?

B. Yes. Your change acceptance would concern a specific proposed service, price, and timing. At present those details remain unknown.

A Not here. This line belongs to turn 2, after Rafael says: "I need it upstairs in my apartment. When I booked delivery, I thought that meant bringing it to the room where I'll use it." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

B Correct. This is Amara's response in turn 18. It connects Rafael's preceding point with Rafael's follow-up. Change acceptance applies to a specific confirmed proposal; none has yet been offered or accepted.

C Not here. This line belongs to turn 10, after Rafael says: "And could it happen today? I need to check both the price and the date before deciding." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

D Not here. This line belongs to turn 8, after Rafael says: "Would it cost extra? Please don't take my asking as agreement to whatever the price turns out to be." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

1. A colleague needs the term for this meaning: Approval for specified goods to be returned under stated conditions. Which term fits?

A. return authorization

A Correct. return authorization: Approval for specified goods to be returned under stated conditions. The usual combination is "verify return authorization".

B Not here. cable carton: Outer box presented as containing cables. The usual combination is "distinguish the cable carton".

C Not here. item separation: Keeping matched and unmatched items distinct in the discussion. The usual combination is "maintain item separation".

D Not here. return label: Label linking a package to return-shipping information. The usual combination is "check the return label".

3. Rebuild the exchange from "Curbside is not upstairs placement". Rafael: "And could it happen today? I need to check both the price and the date before deciding." Amara: [missing response] Rafael: "Please ask dispatch. Make the request specific: upstairs placement, not just customer unhappy with delivery." Which response belongs in the gap?

A. I have no timing confirmation either. Availability, price, and timing all need a checked response before you can assess a specific proposal.

A Correct. This is Amara's response in turn 10. It connects Rafael's preceding point with Rafael's follow-up. Timing confirmation is absent, so today or any replacement date cannot be promised.

B Not here. This line belongs to turn 14, after Rafael says: "I don't need assembly or installation considered at this point. First I need to know whether the item can be placed upstairs." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

C Not here. This line belongs to turn 8, after Rafael says: "Would it cost extra? Please don't take my asking as agreement to whatever the price turns out to be." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

4. Rebuild the exchange from "One missing upload, one refusal". Luis: "That's it. The duplicate is what the customer reported, not a verified ordering error. Both follow-ups are still outstanding." Jo: [missing response] Luis: "Then the handover's clear. I won't call the whole route closed just because you've agreed to take the follow-ups." Which response belongs in the gap?

D. Agreed. Independent verification of the duplicate is still absent. The receipt check and customer-service contact remain pending.

A Not here. This line belongs to turn 6, after Luis says: "Yes. Please don't mark that stop undelivered just because the upload is missing. The goods were received by Mei." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

B Not here. This line belongs to turn 20, after Luis says: "Then the handover's clear. I won't call the whole route closed just because you've agreed to take the follow-ups." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

C Not here. This line belongs to turn 10, after Luis says: "Please have customer service review that account. I didn't agree a refund or promise that we'd deliver it again." It addresses that point, not the missing turn in the supplied exchange.

D Correct. This is Jo's response in turn 18. It connects Luis's preceding point with Luis's follow-up. Independent verification of the alleged duplicate has not occurred, so the customer's reason remains an attributed report.

Additional case 1 / Explanations

Extended conversation

1. CDT

Turn 2. The appointment is 09:30 Central Daylight Time, not 09:30 on the dispatcher's Eastern clock.

2. 10:30

Turn 4. 09:30 at UTC-5 is the same instant as 10:30 at UTC-4, on the same date.

3. UTC

Turn 6. Coordinated Universal Time gives a common reference: both local appointment times convert to 14:30 UTC.

4. fifteen

Turn 8. 09:15 CDT is fifteen minutes before the 09:30 CDT appointment, after both times are put on the same clock.

5. time zone

Turn 10. The time-zone label identifies which local clock a number belongs to; omitting it creates an invalid comparison.

6. check-in procedure

Turn 12. A confirmed appointment does not grant early gate entry; the actual check-in procedure remains applicable.

Return to the conversation, page 93

Transfer exchange

1. 15:45

Driver: The appointment on my Central daylight clock is 15:45 .

Turn 1. Eastern daylight time is one hour ahead of Central daylight time, so 16:45 EDT equals 15:45 CDT.

Additional case 1 / Explanations / continued

2. 20:45

Dispatcher: The appointment in UTC is 20:45 .

Turn 2. Adding four hours to 16:45 EDT gives 20:45 UTC on the same date.

3. fifteen

Driver: My ETA is fifteen minutes before the appointment.

Turn 3. 15:30 CDT is fifteen minutes earlier than the equivalent appointment at 15:45 CDT.

4. unconfirmed

Dispatcher: Early entry remains unconfirmed .

Turn 4. A clock conversion and early ETA do not establish permission to enter the receiving site.

Additional case 2 / Explanations

Extended conversation

1. check-in timestamp

Turn 2. The actual check-in remains 07:40; choosing a contractual billing start does not change when the driver arrived.

2. dwell time

Turn 4. From 07:40 to 10:35 is 175 elapsed minutes at the facility; that is distinct from the contractual chargeable interval.

3. free time

Turn 6. The contract's 120 free minutes run from 08:00 to 10:00; free describes billing, not off-duty time or wages.

4. chargeable interval

Turn 8. The period after the 10:00 end of free time and before 10:35 release is 35 minutes under these fictional terms.

5. billing units

Turn 10. Thirty-five minutes occupies three started fifteen-minute blocks; the third partial block is charged under the stated contract.

6. release timestamp

Turn 12. The release remains 10:35; rounding the charge into three blocks does not change the actual event to 10:45.

Return to the conversation, page 97

Transfer exchange

1. 13:10

Driver: The contractual allowance begins at 13:10 .

Turn 1. The later of the 13:00 appointment and 13:10 check-in is 13:10.

Additional case 2 / Explanations / continued

2. 51

Coordinator: The chargeable interval is 51 minutes.

Turn 2. The allowance ends at 15:10; release at 16:01 is fifty-one minutes later.

3. four

Driver: That occupies four started fifteen-minute blocks.

Turn 3. Three blocks cover only forty-five minutes; fifty-one minutes starts a fourth.

4. 80

Coordinator: The calculated charge is $80 .

Turn 4. Four blocks multiplied by twenty dollars gives eighty, without changing the actual release time.

Return to the conversation, page 100

Additional case 3 / Explanations

Extended conversation

1. clearance conflict

Turn 2. The vehicle height of 4.12 m exceeds the posted 3.90 m clearance, so the suggested route has a direct height conflict.

2. twenty-two centimeters

Turn 4. 4.12 m minus 3.90 m equals 0.22 m, or 22 cm, by which the vehicle exceeds the posted clearance.

3. vehicle profile

Turn 6. The vehicle profile must reflect the actual truck; a passenger-car profile does not establish a suitable route for H7.

4. difference

Turn 8. 4.30 m minus 4.12 m gives a nominal 0.18 m difference, not an authorization or guarantee of safe passage.

5. route restrictions

Turn 10. Route restrictions include more than a single height figure; route C's complete suitability remains unverified.

6. approval status

Turn 12. Route C is proposed and unverified, not approved merely because its listed clearance exceeds the recorded vehicle height.

Return to the conversation, page 102

Transfer exchange

1. 20

Driver: The vehicle exceeds the first posted clearance by 20 centimeters.

Turn 1. 4.05 minus 3.85 equals 0.20 m, or twenty centimeters above the posted clearance.

2. 4.20

Dispatcher: The proposed alternative lists 4.20 meters.

Turn 2. 4.20 m is the alternative's listed clearance, not the vehicle's height or the first restriction.

3. 15

Driver: Its nominal difference above the vehicle height is 15 centimeters.

Turn 3. 4.20 minus 4.05 is 0.15 m, or fifteen centimeters, without establishing safe suitability.

4. unverified

Dispatcher: The alternative route's suitability is still unverified .

Turn 4. Other restrictions and current suitability have not been checked, so the arithmetic alone cannot approve the route.

When the recipient cannot receive

State the present position: I am outside the closed receiving office at 14:10.

Confirm the contact: Am I speaking with the listed receiving contact?

Ask about availability: When will someone be available to receive?

Full phrase bank, page 51

Explaining the booked service boundary

Acknowledge the expectation: I understand you expected the item upstairs.

Name the booking: The booking specifies curbside delivery.

Explain the exclusion: Inside service is not included in this booking.

Full phrase bank, page 61

Matching a return to its collection

Identify the booking: I am here for return collection R62.

State the booked count: The booking lists two printer cartons.

Confirm the matched items: These two printer cartons match R62.

Full phrase bank, page 73

Closing a route with a clear handoff

Name the route: I am handing over the open items from route 12.

Separate the stops: Stop 7 and stop 8 have different issues.

State the receiving event: Mei received stop 7 at 16:05.

Clear details. Reliable handovers.

Eight delivery lessons, plus extended conversations about time zones, detention charges, and route-height checks.

Confirming the delivery destination

The street address is not the dispute. Suite 4 and suite 6 use different receiving points. The shipment remains for Alder Books in suite 4; identifying the front desk does not transfer the shipment to another consignee.

Checking shipment counts

Twelve listed cartons minus eleven counted cartons gives a one-carton discrepancy. That calculation says nothing about the number of individual products missing or the contents of the cartons present, because no contents check has occurred.

Updating an arrival estimate

At 10:20, the estimate is 11:40 and the cutoff is 11:30: a ten-minute mismatch. By 10:40 is the promised update deadline. None of those facts confirms permission to arrive after the cutoff.

Describing a delivery exception

The supported description is one carton with a crushed lower corner, contents unopened and uninspected. The condition warrants reporting, but it does not establish broken equipment, a driver-caused event, claim approval, or liability.
