

ENGLISH FOR WORK / SEPTEMBER 2026

Retail and E-Commerce English

Conversation lab

8 complete workplace dialogues, followed by eight additional role-play cases. Study the exchanges, then make the conversation your own.

PRACTICE THAT TRANSFERS TO WORK

Read a realistic case. Find the right language. Speak, write, get feedback, and try again.

Eight lessons | Intermediate to advanced | Independent or classroom study

For retail managers, e-commerce teams, merchandising staff, store operations leaders, fulfillment teams, customer service managers, marketplace sellers, and growth operators.

All cases and figures are fictional. Adapt the language to your role and organization's current procedures, using invented details for practice.

All scenarios, figures, and model responses are fictional teaching material. Use invented details in practice.

Inside this conversation lab

Original fictional training conversations in professional English. These are realistic scripts, not transcripts of actual people. The professional roles are the speaker labels; all figures, incidents, and organizations are invented.

01 Assortment review

02 Promotion margin

03 Store replenishment

04 A fulfillment exception

05 Checkout funnel review

06 Marketplace listing discrepancy

07 Return-policy explanation

08 Click-and-collect handoff

Then try eight independent role-play cases, followed by feedback criteria and references.

Read it. Hear it. Make it yours.

1. Read the setting. Identify the roles, the immediate problem, and what each speaker needs.
2. Read the whole conversation aloud with a partner. In a group, give a third person the observer role. For three-speaker scripts, assign each professional a separate voice.
3. Notice how the speakers ask a specific question, qualify a claim, disagree, explain a technical point, or agree on a next step. Underline language you would actually use.
4. Cover the script. Recreate the exchange using the situation and professional roles. Keep the meaning, but change the wording.
5. Switch roles and introduce a complication: a missing record, a different priority, an unavailable colleague, or a changed assumption. End with a clear outcome or unresolved question.

Register and terminology

These colleagues use concise professional language. In an internal technical meeting, familiar abbreviations can be natural. With a new colleague or a client, expand unfamiliar terms and check understanding. Keep disagreement directed at the evidence or proposal, and match the degree of certainty to what is known.

Independent study

Speak each role aloud. Pause before the reply and supply your own response before revealing the next line. Record a second version using invented details, then compare its clarity and tone with the script.

Professional context

All cases and figures are fictional. Adapt the language to your role and organization's current procedures, using invented details for practice.

Assortment review

A retailer reviews low-selling seasonal products.

Roles: Merchandiser / Category manager

Merchandiser: Sell-through is low on the larger sizes. Should we cut the full range next season?

Category manager: Check availability first. Some stores received those sizes after the promotion ended.

Merchandiser: I'll compare sales with weeks in stock and allocation by location.

Category manager: Include returns and gross margin, not only units sold.

Merchandiser: Then we can distinguish a demand issue from a distribution problem.

Category manager: Good. Bring a revised assortment proposal with the evidence behind each change.

Notice the professional language

gross margin - Revenue minus cost of goods sold, expressed as an amount or a percentage of revenue.

Promotion margin

Marketing and merchandising discuss a discount.

Roles: E-commerce manager / Merchandising analyst

E-commerce manager: The proposed promotion should lift conversion. What does it do to contribution margin?

E-commerce manager: The first estimate counted the supplier contribution, but it hasn't been confirmed.

Merchandising analyst: Show the result with and without it.

E-commerce manager: I'll verify the funding and promotion terms before we publish.

Merchandising analyst: I'll check the arithmetic and flag any products that fall below the approved margin threshold.

Roles: Replenishment planner / Store manager

Replenishment planner: Your system stock shows twelve units, but you requested an emergency transfer.

Store manager: Ten are damaged and awaiting disposition. Only two are available to sell.

Replenishment planner: That status needs reconciling before the replenishment calculation is useful.

Store manager: I'll confirm the physical count and update the damaged-stock records through our process.

Replenishment planner: I'll check transfer availability at nearby stores.

Store manager: Send the confirmed quantity and arrival estimate so staff can give customers accurate information.

A fulfillment exception

A warehouse cannot complete a customer's order.

Roles: Fulfillment lead / Customer service supervisor

Fulfillment lead: One item failed the final pick check. The rest of the order is packed.

Customer service supervisor: Can we offer a split shipment under the order terms?

Fulfillment lead: Possibly. I need to confirm stock and the additional shipping arrangement.

Customer service supervisor: I'll explain the available choices once those details are verified.

Fulfillment lead: Keep the dispatch confirmation pending until we know what is actually shipping.

Customer service supervisor: Agreed. We'll record the customer's decision and send matching shipment information.

Checkout funnel review

A team investigates a drop in mobile purchases.

Roles: Digital analyst / E-commerce product lead

Digital analyst: Mobile checkout completion fell after the release, especially at address entry.

E-commerce product lead: Does the event tracking still use the same definition?

Digital analyst: Yes, but we should verify logging alongside the customer-session evidence.

E-commerce product lead: Check error rates by browser and device before assigning a cause.

Digital analyst: I'll bring the affected segments and compare them with the previous period.

E-commerce product lead: We'll use that evidence to prioritize the fix and monitor recovery after the change.

Marketplace listing discrepancy

A supplier's listing differs from the actual product.

Roles: Marketplace manager / Vendor account lead

Marketplace manager: The listing says the charger is included, but receiving found none in the packages.

Vendor account lead: I'll verify the current product specification and shipment configuration with the supplier.

Marketplace manager: We need to prevent customers receiving a misleading description while that's reviewed.

Vendor account lead: Follow the marketplace's listing-control process and preserve the current evidence.

Marketplace manager: I'll identify affected orders for the customer-service team.

Vendor account lead: I'll coordinate the confirmed correction and any required remedy with the responsible teams.

Return-policy explanation

A service supervisor coaches a returns discussion.

Roles: Customer service agent / Returns supervisor

Customer service agent: The customer thinks our return window starts when they place the order. Our policy refers to delivery.

Returns supervisor: Verify the applicable policy and the recorded delivery date, then explain it in ordinary language.

Customer service agent: There's also a damaged-item report, so this may need a different process.

Returns supervisor: Yes. Don't treat every return as a change-of-mind request.

Customer service agent: I'll record the reason and explain the appropriate next step without promising a refund before review.

Returns supervisor: I'll help resolve any policy ambiguity and make sure the response addresses the actual issue.

Click-and-collect handoff

Store and online teams coordinate an uncollected order.

Roles: Store supervisor / Online operations coordinator

Store supervisor: The order is marked ready, but the pickup notification bounced.

Online operations coordinator: Confirm the contact route through our approved process; don't assume the customer chose not to collect.

Store supervisor: The item is still reserved in the collection area.

Online operations coordinator: Keep its status consistent while we follow up under the collection policy.

Store supervisor: I'll verify the order reference and the reservation deadline.

Online operations coordinator: I'll arrange the next customer contact and update the store when the collection plan changes.

Eight more situations to make your own

The following cases are open role plays. They give you facts, contrasting roles, useful expressions, and a short model response. Use what you learned from the complete dialogues to create a longer exchange.

Preparation: two minutes. Conversation: three to five minutes. Feedback: one minute. Switch roles and repeat with the second-round challenge.

ROLE-PLAY CASE 01

Merchandising and Assortment Planning

SHARED CASE

Two product ranges have similar sales revenue, but one sells through more slowly and requires larger markdowns.

Role A | Responding professional

Compare options using the same criteria and state the tradeoff. Use only the facts given. Choose two relevant terms and be ready to explain one of them in ordinary words.

Role B | Listener

You favor one option but have not checked whether the scope is comparable. Ask about one difference, then explain the tradeoff you are willing to accept.

Useful expressions

Both options ..., but

Option A ..., whereas option B

The comparison depends on

Cover this until after your first attempt

The revenue totals are similar, but their inventory and markdown patterns differ. Let's compare sell-through and margin as well before deciding which range is performing better.

Second round

Your listener focuses only on the lowest price or fastest date. Explain one other relevant comparison criterion.

Debrief and extend with AI

Which phrase helped the listener? Which case fact needed clarification? Write one better follow-up question, then repeat the exchange.

ROLE-PLAY CASE 02

Pricing, Promotions, and Margin

SHARED CASE

A promotion increases units sold by 20%, while the selling price falls by 15%. A team member assumes profit must have increased.

Role A | Responding professional

Separate observations, assumptions, and conclusions. Use only the facts given. Choose two relevant terms and be ready to explain one of them in ordinary words.

Role B | Listener

You need to tell a colleague what is known. Ask which part is confirmed and which part is an assumption. Challenge one statement that sounds more certain than the case supports.

Useful expressions

The available evidence shows

This may indicate ..., but

We have not yet established whether

Cover this until after your first attempt

Higher unit sales do not by themselves show higher profit. We need the price, cost, and mix effects. I'll separate volume growth from the margin question in the promotion review.

Second round

Someone asks for a yes-or-no answer when the evidence supports only a qualified answer. Be concise while preserving the uncertainty.

Debrief and extend with AI

Which phrase helped the listener? Which case fact needed clarification? Write one better follow-up question, then repeat the exchange.

ROLE-PLAY CASE 03

Inventory, Allocation, and Replenishment

SHARED CASE

A product is available in one warehouse but out of stock in several stores. The website uses a single national inventory total.

Role A | Responding professional

Distinguish completed work from pending work and explain its impact. Use only the facts given. Choose two relevant terms and be ready to explain one of them in ordinary words.

Role B | Listener

You need to brief someone who has only one minute. Ask what is complete, what is open, and which open item affects the next action.

Useful expressions

We have completed ...; ... remains open.

As of ..., the status is

The next update will cover

Cover this until after your first attempt

The national total hides local shortages. I'll report availability by location and check the replenishment status so customers and store teams receive a more useful update.

Second round

The listener asks you to reduce the update to two sentences. Preserve the most important completed and pending items.

Debrief and extend with AI

Which phrase helped the listener? Which case fact needed clarification? Write one better follow-up question, then repeat the exchange.

ROLE-PLAY CASE 04

Fulfillment, Shipping, and Returns

SHARED CASE

A customer receives an estimated delivery date that has already passed. The carrier has not confirmed a new arrival time.

Role A | Responding professional

Acknowledge a communication problem and give a corrected message. Use only the facts given. Choose two relevant terms and be ready to explain one of them in ordinary words.

Role B | Listener

You are frustrated because an earlier message created an expectation. Explain that expectation. Ask your partner to distinguish the correction from anything still uncertain.

Useful expressions

My earlier message did not make ... clear.

I'm sorry for The correct information is

Let me check that the revised explanation addresses

Cover this until after your first attempt

I'm sorry the estimated date has passed. I am checking the shipment status with the responsible team. I'll give you the next verified update and explain the available options under our service process.

Second round

The listener remains disappointed after the correction. Acknowledge the impact and restate the available next step calmly.

Debrief and extend with AI

Which phrase helped the listener? Which case fact needed clarification? Write one better follow-up question, then repeat the exchange.

ROLE-PLAY CASE 05

Conversion, UX, and Digital Analytics

SHARED CASE

Checkout conversion falls after a redesign, but payment outages occurred in the same period.

Role A | Responding professional

Separate observations, assumptions, and conclusions. Use only the facts given. Choose two relevant terms and be ready to explain one of them in ordinary words.

Role B | Listener

You need to tell a colleague what is known. Ask which part is confirmed and which part is an assumption. Challenge one statement that sounds more certain than the case supports.

Useful expressions

The available evidence shows

This may indicate ..., but

We have not yet established whether

Cover this until after your first attempt

The decline overlaps with both the redesign and payment outages. We should investigate those factors before attributing the change to the design alone.

Second round

Someone asks for a yes-or-no answer when the evidence supports only a qualified answer. Be concise while preserving the uncertainty.

Debrief and extend with AI

Which phrase helped the listener? Which case fact needed clarification? Write one better follow-up question, then repeat the exchange.

ROLE-PLAY CASE 06

Marketplace and Vendor Management

SHARED CASE

A vendor scorecard records a high defect rate but does not define the denominator or reporting period.

Role A | Responding professional

Make a request with a clear action, purpose, and realistic timing. Use only the facts given. Choose two relevant terms and be ready to explain one of them in ordinary words.

Role B | Listener

You can help but need a clear request and its purpose. Ask what is required and whether the timing is fixed or negotiable.

Useful expressions

Could you provide ... so that ...?

Please confirm ... by [agreed time].

If that timing is not possible, please let me know

Cover this until after your first attempt

Could you confirm whether the rate is based on units, orders, or inspected samples, and for which period? We need a consistent basis before discussing vendor performance.

Second round

The other person cannot meet the requested timing. Clarify an alternative without inventing authority to change a formal deadline.

Debrief and extend with AI

Which phrase helped the listener? Which case fact needed clarification? Write one better follow-up question, then repeat the exchange.

ROLE-PLAY CASE 07

Customer Service and Escalations

SHARED CASE

A customer requests a return outside the stated policy. The representative can explain approved options but cannot invent an exception.

Role A | Responding professional

Negotiate scope or timing while making conditions explicit. Use only the facts given. Choose two relevant terms and be ready to explain one of them in ordinary words.

Role B | Listener

You want the preferred outcome but can accept one tradeoff. Ask for two options, then state which condition you can accept and which still needs approval.

Useful expressions

We can ..., provided that

Would you prefer ... or ...?

I can take that proposal for review; I cannot yet confirm

Cover this until after your first attempt

I understand why you are asking. Let me explain the available options under the policy and check whether the appropriate team can review your circumstances. I cannot promise an exception before that review.

Second round

The preferred option is unavailable. Offer an alternative and clearly state any approval still needed.

Debrief and extend with AI

Which phrase helped the listener? Which case fact needed clarification? Write one better follow-up question, then repeat the exchange.

ROLE-PLAY CASE 08

Store Operations and Omnichannel Execution

SHARED CASE

A pickup order is marked ready online, but staff cannot find one item. The next shift needs to resolve the discrepancy.

Role A | Responding professional

Give a handoff that the receiving person can confirm. Use only the facts given. Choose two relevant terms and be ready to explain one of them in ordinary words.

Role B | Listener

You are taking over the work. Ask what remains open and repeat back the critical status or responsibility. Point out one detail that would be unsafe or misleading to assume.

Useful expressions

The current status is ...; the outstanding item is

The record shows

Please confirm who has accepted

Cover this until after your first attempt

The order is marked ready, but one item has not been located. Please verify the stock and update the order status through our process before confirming pickup to the customer.

Second round

The intended recipient cannot take ownership. Keep the status clear and identify the need for an authorized reassignment.

Debrief and extend with AI

Which phrase helped the listener? Which case fact needed clarification? Write one better follow-up question, then repeat the exchange.

Give feedback that helps

Score each criterion 0, 1, or 2. This is a practice rubric, not a professional qualification or CEFR test. Do not award or remove points for a particular accent.

Meaning and accuracy

Keeps the case facts accurate; clearly separates confirmed and unknown information.

Clarity and language

Uses understandable sentences and explains specialist terms when the listener needs it.

Interaction and tone

Responds to the other person's question, checks understanding, and uses an appropriate tone.

Task completion

Makes the requested action or unresolved question clear without inventing authority or facts.

Use the same scale for each criterion

0 - Not yet: The reader or listener cannot yet recover the intended meaning or action.

1 - With support: The message works after a prompt, clarification, or revision.

2 - Independently: The message is clear and accurate without a prompt.

Feedback sequence

First, identify a successful phrase. Next, identify one point where meaning or accuracy needs work. Offer one useful language correction, allow a repeat, and compare the two attempts. A total out of eight describes this performance only; do not translate it into a proficiency level.

Final challenge

Choose a case not rehearsed today. The learner gives a one-minute response, answers two follow-up questions, and writes a 70-110 word message. Add the lesson's second-round challenge. Compare the result with an earlier attempt using the four criteria.

Use the language responsibly

All cases and figures are fictional. Adapt the language to your role and organization's current procedures, using invented details for practice.

Meaning before performance

Use specialist terms only when they help the listener. Explain unfamiliar words, preserve uncertainty, and ask when an instruction or responsibility is unclear. The model responses illustrate language; they do not authorize professional actions.

Your next step

Choose one expression you can use in a genuine work situation. Rehearse it with fictional details, then adapt the wording to your role and audience.

Extend your practice with AI

Use the next two prompts after your own first attempt. Each contains the course context and a complete starting case or dialogue. Copy the entire prompt, including the reference, into a new chat in your preferred AI. You can also use the links to copy it from the website.

Choose the right kind of help

A role-play prompt makes the AI wait for your replies. A new-dialogue prompt asks for a complete professional script. Writing feedback begins with your draft. Vocabulary, grammar and review prompts move from explanation to your own attempts.

Choose any lesson or dialogue online

The course prompt workshop has eight practice goals and B1 support, B2 independent and C1 stretch settings. These are practice choices, not assessed proficiency levels. Select the same lesson number or dialogue title you used in this guide.

Keep practice useful

Use fictional or anonymized details. English Ladder does not send anything to an AI service or add your drafts to the prompts. Your chosen service's terms and any usage charges apply. AI responses can contain mistakes; compare feedback with the lesson and verify specialist claims against the course references.

The two starter prompts use B2 practice. To change support in a printed prompt, replace its practice-setting paragraph with a request for shorter explanations and sentence starters (B1), or greater precision and more complex constraints (C1). Keep the professional facts unchanged.

Changing the example

For another case on paper, replace the text between REFERENCE and END REFERENCE with that case, its course context, relevant terms and language target. Include the full exchange if practicing a dialogue. Do not assume your AI can access this PDF or a link. The website makes this substitution for you.

Prompt edition: 2026-09-06. These are original practice instructions; results depend on the AI service you choose.

Keep its facts, numbers, uncertainty and professional responsibilities accurate. Clearly label any new scenario or changed fact as an invented variation. Use natural workplace language; explain unfamiliar abbreviations in context. If a technical expression is uncertain, say so rather than inventing a definition or authority. Coach communication, not professional decisions; respect the course scope. Ask only for fictional or anonymized practice details. Judge clarity, meaning, appropriate tone and the next step. Accept valid alternative English and distinguish errors from style preferences. Do not claim to certify my language level. Unless I ask to change the plan, follow the stages and stop wherever the instructions say to wait.

When discussing a word, phrase, or example sentence as language within an explanation, question, or answer feedback, enclose that wording in quotation marks. For example: What does "about" mean in "about twenty people"? Use "on" with a named day. Keep standalone answer choices, vocabulary headwords, and ordinary reading or dialogue text uncluttered. Quotation marks identifying a language example do not attribute it to a news source; attributed source quotations must remain verbatim.

Practice setting: B2 independent. Use natural professional English with brief explanations. Let me attempt each task without a model first. Offer a hint after difficulty and invite a more precise retry.

Dialogue 01: Assortment review

Original fictional setting: A retailer reviews low-selling seasonal products.

Professional roles: Merchandiser / Category manager

TASK: Interactive workplace role-play

1. Use the supplied case or dialogue as the starting situation. Give a two-sentence briefing and offer two relevant professional roles for me to choose from. For a supplied dialogue, use its actual roles. Ask which role I want, then stop and wait. Do not write my replies.
2. After I choose, identify who you will play and the immediate communication goal. Play the other professional; where a meeting requires a third person, label each of your speakers clearly. Start with one natural workplace turn and wait for my reply. Keep most turns to one to three sentences and ask no more than one question at a time.
3. Let the exchange develop across six to ten learner turns, or end earlier if I type "feedback". Respond to what I actually say. Include a plausible clarification, disagreement or tradeoff without silently changing the starting facts. Mark any added constraint as a fictional second-round variation. Do not resolve approvals, evidence or commitments that remain uncertain.
4. Stay in role during the exchange. If my meaning is unclear, ask for clarification naturally. Give a hint only if I ask or cannot proceed. Do not deliver a model conversation in advance.
5. At the debrief, quote two of my phrases: one successful choice and one worth improving. Check factual accuracy, language, register and whether the next step was clear. Give up to three focused suggestions. Ask me to retry the weakest turn; wait. Only then offer an alternative wording and a harder replay.

TASK: Extend the conversation library

1. Propose six distinct, common scenarios in this field beyond the supplied case or script. For each, name the setting, two or more professional roles, the communication problem and one useful terminology focus. Include routine coordination, clarification, a complication, disagreement, handoff and follow-up where relevant. Choose scenarios that fit this profession, rather than forcing unsuitable situations into it.
2. Ask me to choose one scenario, or request all six in sequence. Stop and wait. Do not write all the scripts before I choose.
3. For the selected scenario, write an original fictional dialogue of 12-18 substantial speaking turns between two or three professionals. Name each role, establish an actual work problem, and let the exchange progress through questions, clarification, competing constraints and a credible next step or explicitly unresolved issue. Use the occupation's natural nomenclature and register. Avoid an interview between a teacher and a learner, generic small talk, and inserting a glossary definition into every reply. Explain specialist terms outside the dialogue instead.
4. After the script, explain five useful expressions in context, identify two grammar or register choices and ask three questions about the speakers' reasoning. Withhold the answers until I attempt them. Add one role-switch challenge.
5. Before presenting a script, check names, numbers, chronology, roles and terminology for consistency. Label invented facts and acknowledge uncertain specialist usage. If I requested all six, deliver one complete script at a time and wait for "next". Make each scenario materially different.
